'Honest, It's Rain'

Taking no chances on the weather today were these Esquimalt tots who just got umbrellas up in time as the first measurable rain in 29 days fell lightly on the city. Danny, four, Jackie, one, and Tommy Harris, three, of 920 Shirley Road, were one jump ahead of the weatherman, who said the morning sprinkle

"didn't count," but he expects some that will tonight. A storm in the Gulf of Alaska may bring showers here in two or three days. Tonight and Friday will be cloudy with intermittent clear skies and a temperature range of 52 to 65 degrees. (Times Photo.)

WEST COAST RESIDENTS PLAN REVIVAL OF OLD ROAD PLEA

On a summer's day 20 years ago, St. Princess Maquinnia hove to off Clo-oose on the West Coast of Vancouver Island.

Aboard was a touring party of the Victoria Board of Trade, and the passengers lined the rail, watching a tiny rowboat put out from the sandy shore.

In the small boat were five very young ladies. They carried two things to the ship:

A bouquet of flowers grown near Nitinat Lake.

A petition signed by every resident of the area, asking for road connection with Victoria.

Today Clo-oose residents are planning strategy to renew the battle for roads. (See story on Page 13.)

U.S. FREIGHTER SPLIT IN HALF

Dover Lifeboats Save 37 Men Off Goodwin Sands When American Ship Hit by Tanker

DOVER, Eng., Aug. 21 (AP)—Two British lifeboats early today hauled the 37-man crew of the American Liberty ship Western Farmer from the gale-swept English Channel after the freighter, rammed by a Norwegian tanker, split in halves and sank.

The lifeboat landed Capt. Gunnar Utvik of Galveston, Tex., and the rest of his crew—some bruised and battered but all safe—at this famous old port of southeast England and at nearby Ramsgate.

The 11,732-ton tanker Bjorg, hove out of Oslo, came through without serious damage. She stood by until the rescue boats picked up the crew of the ill-fated 7,239-ton Western Farmer. The collision occurred shortly before 10 p.m. Wednesday in a wind-driven rain near the Goodwin Sands, the "channel graveyard" eight miles off the south-east coast of England.

The tanker's bow, one survivor related, smashed into the freighter amidships—"right into the radio room." The crash put the U.S. ship's engines and radio out of action, but emergency signals from the tanker brought rescue craft.

As searchlights from the rescue ships played over the wallowing wreck, the forward part of the stricken ship broke away and the crew abandoned her, some taking to the ship's boats and others going over the side.

"The forward half sank almost immediately, but as we left, the after part was still afloat and sinking slowly," said first engineer Dulcilio Santiago of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Utvik said the collision occurred off Sandetti Bank, midway between England and France.

The Western Farmer was on her way to Bremen, Germany, with a load of coal from Norfolk, Va. She was owned by the Western Navigation Company of New York.

Radio operator Albert Marshall of New York described himself as the "luckiest man on the ship." Telling how the tanker's bow smashed into his radio shack, he said: "When I opened my cabin door only a few feet away, the bow seemed right on top of me."

Junk Dealer Buys House

Free lodging for indigents is planned by Harry Haigh, 845 Balmoral, city junk dealer who has purchased the land and property at 1586 Rockland for the purpose.

Mrs. Haigh told the Times this morning that they intended to use the fine old home as a "doss house"—a place where persons without means may sleep for the night.

Mr. Haigh added that, over the years, he had provided many down-and-outers with a bed and a meal.

It is reported that Mr. Haigh purchased the property from George C. Solomon, Bank of Toronto Building. It is now registered in Mr. Haigh's name at the land registry office, with a valuation of $11,500.

Mr. Haigh was an unsuccessful candidate in the mayoralty election last December. He appeared before police court this morning on charges that he maintains junkyards in the city without permission of City Council.

Mr. Haigh pleaded not guilty and will stand trial Aug. 29.

Bate Quits Liberals

Lawyer Pat Bate, well-known Victoria Liberal, has resigned from the Saanich Liberal Association, and is expected to join the Social Credit party.

His resignation is in the hands of Gilbert Lucas, association president.

Asked today if he planned to join the Socreds, Mr. Bate said he had no comment.

Mr. Bate, who has been rebellious in the Liberal party for considerable time, was among those strenuously opposing the coalition of Liberals and Conservatives in 1948.

During the Esquimalt by-election last year, he was an active supporter of independent candidate Reeve A. C. Wurtele, who was supported by Premier W. A. C. Bennett.

BY-ELECTIONS BEFORE SESSION SAYS BENNETT

Revision of Sales Tax Coming Soon

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (BUP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced late Wednesday that by-elections definitely would be held to find seats in the B.C. Legislature for the two cabinet members without ridings.

Bennett said he intended to hold the by-elections in time for Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Finance Minister Einar Gunnerson to sit at the next House session. He did not indicate what seats would be opened, but indications were that Social Credit Bert Price would step down in the Vancouver-Burrard "B" riding to clear up the legal confusion about a recount there.

Premier Bennett says the new government wants the federal government to bring the Canadian dollar down towards par with the American dollar.

B.C. BUSINESS HIT

Bennett says the government will ask Ottawa to take the step because the 4 per cent premium is not good for B.C. business, even though it may stir Canadian national pride. The Premier adds B.C. metals and forest industries are being hit badly by the premium, which has a lesser but still adverse effect on the agriculture and tourist industries.

For comment on Premier Bennett's proposal that Canada seek dollar parity with United States, see column by Times Business Editor Burke Cahill, page 6.

The premier also said the Social Credit government plans to "rectify" the sales tax on at least low-cost meals as soon as possible. He disclosed the cabinet was working on a liquor plan to carry out the "yes" vote in the June 12 plebiscite, but said the plan would not be ready before the opening of the legislature, expected next March.

WOULD BE COSTLY

Bennett said a session now would be "useless," since there was nothing for members to do, and the only result would be weeks of talk at high cost to taxpayers. He declared, "I don't think the people of B.C. want anything like that at this time... they want some stability and they look to the government to give a lead in that."

He hinted there would be no wholesale staff dismissals in the Hospital Insurance Service, saying the inquiry board had proposed removal of hundreds of employees from the service, but giving them other civil service jobs if possible.

The premier added, "that wouldn't save any money for the government. It would only mean that the salaries of these people would be paid by other government departments. We wouldn't be getting anywhere."

PRINCESS MARGARET 22, QUIET BIRTHDAY PARTY

BALMORAL, Scotland, Aug. 21 (AP)—Princess Margaret is 22 today—and like many another British little sister, she's spending her birthday quietly with the family.

The petite princess, one of the gayest leaders of London's smart set until the death of her father, the King, donned tweeds and sensible low-heeled shoes to picnic on the grouse moors near here.

The Queen, the Duke of Edinburgh and Queen Mother Elizabeth were to be there, together with friends of the Royal Family. A small family birthday party was to be held tonight in draughty Balmoral Castle, but no official celebrations were planned.

Royal birthdays are regarded as strictly private affairs and little fuss is made about them in British newspapers.

Bengough Again T.L.C. President

Convention at Winnipeg Gives Coast Man 11th Term

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 21 (BUP)—President Percy Bengough today was elected to his 11th term of office in the Trades and Labor Congress after delegates rejected three resolutions that would have opened the door to Communist delegates.

The delegates to the 67th annual convention of the Congress gave their 67-year-old leader a standing ovation. Bengough has been president since 1942.

Delegates privately grumbled over the slowness with which the convention was dealing with its bulky package of 144 resolutions. Only a few had been placed before the convention as the elections got underway.

Bengough said Wednesday that Canadian labor will continue to exercise its right to strike.

He was commenting on a speech by Federal Labor Minister Milton F. Gregg who told delegates Tuesday that Canada's production should not be interrupted, impeded or interfered with for even a short time.

"We agree with that," Bengough said. "But the Labor movement in Canada will never give up its right to strike."

"We will co-operate with the government in any way we can, and every effort will be made to avoid strikes."

A bitter debate over jurisdiction of the various city councils and the T.L.C. executive council in putting employers on "unfair" or "non-patronage" lists dominated Wednesday's business session. It ended inconclusively when it was time for broadcast speeches by British and United States fraternal delegates.

U.N. PLANES LEAVE KOREA FRONT FLAMING

SEOUL, Korea, Aug. 21 (AP)—United Nations B-29 Superfortresses, B-26's and fighter bombers left Communist factories, stockpiles and troop installations in flames today in two massive raids over north-west Korea.

Thirty-eight Okinawa-based B-29's Wednesday night and early today hurled 350 tons of bombs on Pyongyang, the North Korean capital, after civilians were warned to get out. The air force said the big bombers rumbled 400 acres of troop, supply and industrial areas and left huge fires burning. All 38 planes returned safely, despite Red anti-aircraft fire and fighter opposition.

More than 100 B-26's and fighter bombers followed with a daylight bombing of a giant cement plant at Osu, about 50 miles south of Pyongyang. Returning pilots estimated they destroyed 63 buildings and damaged 29 others.

The Osu raid was the third big Allied bombing of Communist targets in two days. The air force said 59 buildings were destroyed Wednesday in a 200-plane smash at the Red build-up area near Namyang, 25 miles northwest of Pyongyang.

United States air force Sabre jets destroyed three Communist Mig-15's and damaged two more over northwest Korea Wednesday. Allied losses, if any, are announced weekly. The Communists had established the two build-up areas since the big July 11 and Aug. 9 raids on Pyongyang, the air force said.

Ground action was extremely light Wednesday and early today. Only fighting reported was on the central front southeast of Kumson, where two enemy squads were repulsed in a 55-minute fight.

50-Year-Old Deputy To Outline New Plan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP)—A solid clue pointing to Russia's next ruler may emerge from the full-dress meeting of the Communist Party Congress in Moscow Oct. 5.

And United States diplomats will not be surprised if 50-year-old Georgi Malenkov steps up as Josef Stalin's personal choice as next Russian prime minister. In fact, some suspect Stalin's aim in staging the whole affair may be to give a formal, open hint as to who the next boss should be.

This may be Stalin's way of lessening the possibility of a bloody struggle for power, after he dies.

Stalin's heir apparent could be the man who is chosen to be

PLUMBERS MAY DISREGARD PICKET LINES

Employers Say Men Committed

Union plumbers may disregard picket lines of striking carpenters and go back to work Monday on major construction projects here.

The Master Plumbers' Association reiterated today that negotiators for the plumbers' union had given a definite promise to have the men back at work Monday on such projects as Oak Bay's Junior High School and the Esquimalt army housing development "pickets or no pickets."

"AGREED"

The Master Plumbers say the union representatives agreed verbally to the back-to-work stipulation in accepting a 10-cent-an-hour raise for the membership.

Spokesmen for striking carpenters, however, declared today union solidarity would prevent plumbers from crossing their picket lines, and that there would be no plumbers working on struck jobs.

Carpenters—admitted—some plumber representatives had been to see them Wednesday afternoon to ask about the possibility of getting "permits" to go through picket lines, but this suggestion was turned down flatly.

Top officials of the plumbers' union were not available for comment today.

Plumbers and other building tradesmen have been kept off construction jobs here for more than nine weeks by carpenter picket lines.

The 10-cent raise would bring their pay to $2.10 an hour, the second highest plumber rate in Canada.

ANOTHER TALK

Meantime, there remains no hope for a settlement of the carpenters' dispute with building contractors. Indications are, however, that the Labor Relations Board will call both sides together for another round-table talk sometime next week.

In Vancouver the picture is far brighter.

Contractors there have proposed a new plan to settle the mainland's two-month-old carpenters' strike.

A statement issued by the Vancouver General Contractors' Association today said the new proposal provides for reduced charges for room and board for men working on out-of-town jobs up to Dec. 1 and free room and board after Dec. 1.

The room-and-board issue has been holding up settlement.

Eighth Polio Death in Kimberley

The Kimberley-Cranbrook district's polio death toll rose to eight Wednesday with the death in Kimberley hospital of an eight-year-old boy. The British Columbia total of deaths for the year now stands at 13.

Five new polio cases have been diagnosed at the mining town.

NOT SUCH A QUIET DAY

Ox Blasted, Korea Farmer Up in Air

WITH THE U.S. EIGHTH ARMY, Korea, Aug. 21 (AP)—Somewhere in Korea there is a farmer who never will forget this day.

He was plowing a field when his ox stepped on a mine. The ox was blown to bits, the farmer scratched on the chest.

Allied troops took him to a nearby hospital for treatment. A little iodine and some bandage patched him up nicely, and he offered to help around the hospital tent.

He got sleepy, lay down on a stretcher inside this tent, and soon was fast asleep.

chairman of the new praesidium, to be organized at the meeting to replace the politburo.

The 12-man politburo, now the top governing body, has no chairman or chief executive. But a praesidium under the Russian setup generally does have one.

Anyone picked for this job would automatically be the most important Communist in Russia next to Stalin.

It is entirely possible that Stalin himself will be designated chairman of the new praesidium. But, if so, why for the first time since 1925 is he not to give the main address to the congress, the report of the central committee?

Malenkov is now scheduled to give this report, the most important thing on the agenda.

Furthermore, neither Marshal Lavrenty Beria, head of the Soviet secret police and Deputy Premier Malenkov's main rival, nor Deputy Premier V. M. Molotov, is scheduled at this time to play a prominent role in the Congress party session. This may be a clue that Molotov is being pushed into the background, since he read the new five-year plan at each of the two previous Congress meetings, in 1934 and 1939.

Molotov is 62 and his age has been considered a factor against him.

Malenkov was a key figure in setting up the Cominform, the guiding Soviet policy bureau for Russia's Eastern Europe satellites.

POLITBURO GOING

Stalin's Job In Discard

By PHIL NEWSOM

United Press Foreign News Editor

Russia's Premier Josef Stalin is abolishing the job on which he rode to power.

After a lapse of 13 years, he has called a meeting of the Communist Party Congress on Oct. 5 to consider, among other things, a new constitution which would abolish the all-powerful party politburo of which he has served as secretary-general since 1922.

So powerful has been the job of Communist party secretary-general that it was not until 1941 that Stalin even bothered to hold public office.

He didn't have to. As secretary-general he ruled Russia as well as the Communist party.

Nicolas Lenin, patron saint of modern day Communism, lived to regret he ever had allowed his ruthless protégé to reach such high estate, but too late. He died before he could, in his own words, "find a way to remove Stalin and find another man . . . more patient, less capricious."

It was as secretary-general that Stalin forced Leon Trotsky into exile.

It was in that same period that Russia set up her collectivization program and engineered a famine in which millions died; that the famous purge trials of army and political leaders were held and that Russia entered into her ill-starred alliance with Germany.

No Explanation to the People

As usual, the Russians have not bothered to explain why the Politburo is being abolished and what, if any, difference there will be between the Politburo and the "presidium of the central committee" which will take its place.

Theoretically, the Communist party central committee, elected by the congress, controls all party policy. Actually, policy has been completely in the hands of Stalin and his 10 lieutenants in the Politburo. Presumably, these same men could be a part of the new "presidium."

World reaction to Moscow's sudden announcement has been mixed.

However, both Washington and London believed it might mark an important shift in Russian foreign policy and that it might also disclose the name of Stalin's successor.

There also was speculation that Stalin, now 72 and foreseeing the time when he would drop the reins, was dividing his various responsibilities among a number of men in the hopes of averting any internecine struggle within the party after his death.

Alexander Kerensky, exiled leader of Russia's first revolutionary government, looked upon the move only as another Kremlin manoeuvre to fool world opinion.

There are, however, two names which from now on will be watched closely. They are Georgi Malenkov, 50, who will deliver the main address to the congress meeting, and Lavrenty Beria, 53, powerful chief of the Soviet security system. Both are vice-premiers, and Malenkov, in addition, has been Stalin's private secretary since 1946, in control of Communist party machinery.

Reliable reports say that these two men long have pressed for party reforms which would include a greater number of non-Russians in the central committee, and that the calling of the congress now after 13 years is largely at their insistence.

One of Quints Dead, Others Doing Well

SAO PAULO, Brazil, Aug. 21 (CP)—One of the quintuplet girls born to Mrs. Maria Albano, 38, at Sao Carlos Tuesday night died in hospital here today. The other four were reported in good condition.

The babies, who weighed about 2½ pounds each at birth, were placed in an incubator in a maternity hospital here.

Their mother, Mrs. Maria Albano, 38, is well.

The Albanos solved the problem of naming the children by calling them all Maria after their mother and adding numerals in order of their births.

Thus they are named Maria Primeira (first); Maria Segunda (second); Maria Terceira (third); Maria Quarta (fourth); and Maria Quinta (fifth).

Canada's Dionne quintuplets, now 18 years old, also have a common given name—Marie in their case. The youngest of the quints has Marie for her first name and the other four have it as their second names.

VENICE, Italy, Aug. 21 (AP)—Venice became a temporary movie mecca last night as Italy's 13th international film festival opened under the flags of 15 countries.

NO BODYGUARDS BUT LOTS AND LOTS OF CAMERMEN

HELSINKI, Finland, Aug. 21 (AP)—Photographers snapped as many pictures of Margaret Truman as they pleased today as the President's daughter arrived in the Finnish capital on her European tour. Miss Truman's three-man American bodyguard remained discreetly in the background.

Margaret smilingly faced photographers who climbed aboard the motor ship Allotar on the heels of John Cabot, United States minister to Finland.

Miss Truman arrived here from a visit to Sweden, during which Stockholm newspapers complained that her bodyguard mistreated Swedish citizens and barred photographers from taking pictures of her.

The U.S. State Department in Washington, however, has denied any roughhouse tactics on the part of the secret service men. (See story, Page 10).

LOUD MUSIC, SIGNS

Noise Highlights Chile Presidential Campaign

SANTIAGO, Chile, Aug. 21 (AP)—Loud music and louder signs are the chief outward signs of the Chilean presidential campaign now going on. The voting, to elect one of four candidates, will take place Sept. 4.

Loudspeakers blare out a mixture of tangos, sambas and rumbas, intermingled with praise for one or another of the men who want to succeed President Gabriel Gonzalez Videla.

Automobiles outfitted with loudspeakers roar out advice about the candidates.

Complaints about the racket get little action because the government is bent on maintaining absolute freedom of speech throughout the campaign.

Accompanying the second is the handwriting on the walls—tar, pitch, paint or printed posters. Garden walls in exclusive residential districts and the walls of buildings are plastered with signs, often depicting opponents in impolite terms.

Chilean law says housefronts must be clean on Sept. 18, Chile's independence day. That means that within two weeks after election day there is going to be a lot of whitewashing.

The four candidates are: lawyer Pedro Enrique Alfonso, 49, the government candidate; retired General Carlos Ibanez, 74, former president; Senator Arturo Matte, 59, right-wing party candidate; Dr. Salvador Allende, 44, vice-president of the Senate and candidate of the left, including the outlawed Communist party.

Women are voting for the first time in Chile at this election. Eligible to vote are 328,404 women, 776,625 men.

The main campaign issue is inflation.

The 950-member local rejected a company offer of a five-day 42½-hour work week and an increase in journeymen's pay to $1.52 an hour from $1.39. It has reverted to its original demands for a 40-hour week and a journeymen's rate of $1.72½ an hour.

Unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor voted Tuesday night to accept the company's offer. A spokesman for them said Wednesday night: "A.F.L. members will continue working until we are told to stop by our international officers."

Greeks Debate Statement by U.S. Envoy

ATHENS, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Greek press carried heated debate today over comments by United States Ambassador John Peurifoy recommending that the Greeks hold elections soon for a new government.

The newspaper Elliniki Imperia, published by the party of Deputy Prime Minister Venizelos, says Peurifoy's statements were "inadmissible and contrary to the principles of the country." Other government newspapers also attack Peurifoy for "interference."

The opposition paper Ethnos says Peurifoy "bluntly puts things in their proper place and dissolves a midnight night's dream of the government of acrobats." The American ambassador spoke as a real friend of the country.

The ambassador was quoted here as saying that elections should be held in order to stabilize the country's economy. It was said he also recommended that the majority-system of counting votes rather than the complicated proportional system be used.

Famed German Socialist Dead

Courageous Dr. K. Schumacher Opposed Rearmament, Alignment With West

BONN, Germany, Aug. 21 (AP)—The strongest foe of West German rearmament and alignment with the west, Socialist chief Dr. Kurt Schumacher, died Wednesday night. He was 56.

The fervent leader—second only to Chancellor Konrad Adenauer as a political force in post-war Germany—succumbed to a circulatory ailment. A cripple with only one arm and one leg, he had been ailing ever since his health was ruined in Nazi concentration camps.

Socialist party headquarters said funeral services will be held in Bonn Saturday, with burial in Hannover on Sunday.

The soft-spoken Socialist party vice-chairman, Erich Ollenhauer, is scheduled to inherit Schumacher's party leadership. The opposite in appearance and actions to his fiery predecessor, Ollenhauer is expected, however, to keep pushing the Socialists on the same nationalistic course—opposed to communism on the one hand and European federalism and common defense on the other.

It remained to be seen how the loss of Schumacher's leadership would affect the Socialist campaign against ratification of a pending peace contract and military pact with the western Allies.

Schumacher was a long-time Socialist, but one whose political faith was founded on intellectual belief rather than personal experience as a laborer. The son of a Prussian official, he studied law and the labor movement, and entered politics as editor of a provincial Social Democratic paper.

LENGHTY BATTLE.

Schumacher's life was a stubborn battle against chronic ill-health and political enemies.

He first became crippled during the First World War, losing an arm fighting in the Kaiser's army.

The Nazis threw him into a concentration camp in 1933. Ten years of brutalities and poor food permanently weakened his stomach.

After the Second World War he opposed the Communists in Germany with the same spirit he had shown against the Nazis.

Amputation of a leg after he was stricken with thrombosis in 1947 failed to dampen his fervor. A bachelor, he was able to get about only with the aid of a human crutch, a devoted woman secretary.

Member of Iran's Royal Household To Leave Country

TEHRAN, Aug. 21 (CP)—Another member of the Iranian royal household, the Shah's brother-in-law, has resigned his post and announced his intention of leaving the country.

The brother-in-law, Ahmed Shafagh, was director-general of civil aviation. He quit 10 days ago as director of shipping and navigation.

He is the husband of Princess Ashraf, the Shah's twin sister, who left Iran early this month. She now is in France.

VIENNA, Austria, Aug. 21 (AP)—Anton Jugov, one of the most powerful men in Communist Bulgaria, has been appointed deputy-prime minister. Sofia radio reported yesterday.

ONE WOMAN'S DAY

By NANCY HODGES

OLD HOUSES
ALMOST daily I journey to town by way of Rockland Avenue, and cannot help noticing the changes that are taking place in that thoroughfare which was, not so long ago, the exclusive residential section of the wealthy.

While there are still many large and beautiful homes set in spacious grounds—including, of course, the lovely demesne of Government House—the smaller, box-like type of bungalow is making its appearance to emphasize the change that modern living has brought about in Victoria as elsewhere.

NEW TROGLODYTES
MANY of the older homes that once housed single families now are given over to the more modern pattern of multiple family accommodation. Some have been turned into apartments, others have become boarding houses and nursing homes.

Nearer town, the erection of new apartment blocks remind us again that we are slowly reverting to a race of troglodytes, a 20th century version of the ancient cave-dwellers, although Victoria has not yet reached the stage of some of the larger cities where enormous, modern apartment houses every morning disgorge the heads of hundreds of families on their way to offices and business establishments, only to swallow them up again at night.

LEISURELY LIVING
HOWEVER, it is in the older, large homes that I am more interested, like the one that was condemned by the city not long ago, after a futile search for someone willing to buy it. Like many another once gracious residence in this city, it was inclined to be of the "gingerbread" type of architecture, now outmoded in these days of functional, streamlined and goldfish-bowl effects.

But it had an atmosphere of hospitality, and around its deteriorating walls there still clings a remnant of the era of gracious, leisurely living for which it was built.

CHANGING NATURE
THE very nature of the changes that are taking place in Rockland Avenue brings back nostalgic memories to those of us who are old enough to remember those days. For then homes were homes, not merely places to sleep; they were the centre of a family life which was a compact unit, in which its members not only ate and slept but entertained themselves and others. Instead of escaping by car to the nearest restaurant, movie or community centre.

Those were the days when evenings were spent, not in listening to the radio or staring glass-eyed at TV, but in gathering around the piano, the whole family joining in the old songs with father, while mother played the accompaniments.

PIANOS VANISHING
EVEN pianos are vanishing in these days, not only because the steadily shrinking walls of the box-like bungalow and the compressed-cave-apartment preclude their presence, but because the ubiquitous radio and canned music have also conspired against them.

And, of course, the scarcity and ever-rising cost of help has been one of the biggest factors contributing to the disappearance of the big home with its cleaning problems and the substitution of the be-gadged and be-gimmicked smaller house and flat.

OLD BROWNSTONE FRONTS
THAT these very changes in Rockland Avenue are symptomatic of similar changes everywhere is nowhere more convincingly demonstrated than in the little requiem of an old brownstone house in New York, written by Avery Giles:

"One single family lived within these walls
When old Manhattan was a younger town;
The ballroom floor was really used for balls,
And many a belle in grand Victorian gown
Waltzed gracefully and danced the lancers here
With mustached gentlemen of stately mien
When gallantry was prized and honor dear
And children seldom heard when they were seen.
The master of this house, who ruled his clan
With majesty and patriarchal might,
Whose life span spelled the measure of a man,
Has gone these many years; and on the site
Of dinner party, promenade and tea,
Ten households dwell in drab simplicity."

No 'Bought' Armistice Before Election—Truman

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (UP).—President Truman has assured diplomatic officials that the United States will not weaken its Korean truce terms in order to gain a peace settlement before the November election, it was learned today.

Authoritative sources said Mr. Truman privately communicated the promise to key officials some time ago, in order to lay at rest any fears that political pressures might induce the Democratic administration to "buy" an armistice.

Mr. Truman seized an opportunity Wednesday to give public notice to the world—and particularly to Communist leaders—that this country is standing firm on the prisoner of war issue that has deadlocked the Korean truce talks.

In an open letter to an army captain in Korea, Mr. Truman declared anew that the United States will not force any prisoners to return to Communist rule against their will.

About 70,000 of the 170,000 prisoners of war held by United Nations forces have balked at going home.

Mr. Truman said there are "compelling humanitarian and moral reasons" for the United States position, and added: "We must not use bayonets to force these prisoners to return to slavery and almost certain death at the hands of the Communists."

Federal Power Blasted by Ike

Republican Presidential Nominee Outlines Views Before 20,000 at Boise Meeting

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (AP).—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's first frank political speech, calling for a middle-of-the-road policy and blasting at centralization of power in Washington, drew cheers today from Republicans.

The Republican presidential nominee outlined his views before an enthusiastic crowd of about 20,000 in Boise, Idaho, late Wednesday and then flew to Kansas City for a conference today with leaders from seven mid-western states.

His flight from Boise to Kansas City was delayed by bad weather and engine trouble—a minor fire when exhaust gasses from an engine of his plane ignited.

Eisenhower told the Boise audience that the paths of the extreme left and the far right both lead to tyranny—and that the Truman administration is traveling left. He promised a change.

Washington had so much power now that "the government does everything but come in and wash the dishes for the housewife."

Governor Adlai Stevenson today, worked on tomorrow's headlines—the speeches he will make on a western tour expected to open Sept. 5 in Denver. The Democratic presidential candidate, on his last day of vacation in Wisconsin's north woods, also scheduled a press conference.

His plans call for a swing through California and the Pacific northwest next month—the beginning of the heralded whistle-stop campaign drive.

MUTED BATTLECRY
Stevenson told reporters Wednesday he hopes to mute the Republican battlecry of "Time for a change," with promises that a Democratic victory would bring a change in faces and policies. He would deal "ruthlessly" with corruption in government.

Stevenson's opening campaign speech will be made on Labor Day but his running mate, Senator John Sparkman of Alabama, got off to a running start by making his Wednesday.

Sparkman said in Hartselle, Ala., that the American people have a better standard of living than they did in the Republican-dominated past, and promised "even greater things" in the future.

The Republican vice-presidential nominee, Senator Richard M. Nixon, repeated in Hampton Beach, N.H., that Stevenson was a "Truman man," and not the real choice of the Democratic voters.

PROTEST—Havana's journalists today considered a possible 72-hour protest strike as tension mounted over the abduction and beating by police of columnist Mario Kuchilan of the newspaper Prensa Libre.

The city's association of journalists announced Wednesday it will consider calling a strike in protest against the attack.

The announcement came shortly before two policemen were jailed on charges of "insulting and slapping" reporter Martin Liraldi of the same paper.

The association demanded that President Fulgencio Batista's government find the newspaperman's assailants within the 72 hours.

CONFUSING—In Montreal two men today each claimed they were Panamanian consul and were awaiting word from Ottawa and Washington to straighten out the situation.

Dr. Jose DeNobili, honorary consul-general here five years, refused to give up the post to Tito Juvenal Arias, who arrived in Montreal last week and said he had been appointed official consul.

In telephone talks with the External Affairs Department in Ottawa, DeNobili said the department told him they had received no word of Arias' appointment and declared him "legally and diplomatically in function as the only recognized representative of Panama in Montreal."

Arias said the Panama embassy in Washington told him to wait in Montreal for further orders.

CRACKPOTS—Dynamite-carrying "crackpots" were sought today by Ontario provincial police looking for the answer to a hydro storage dam explosion 45 miles southeast of Timmins.

Officers discounted the possibility of sabotage. Ontario Hydro Chairman Robert Saunders said the Lake Watabeg dam was of no strategic importance to the provincial power system. There are no generating stations in the immediate area.

Police believed a backwoods "crackpot" was responsible for the week-end blast. They said there were a number of persons in the area who might be to blame and several have access to explosives.

RECORD—Traffic accidents in Ontario caused 112 deaths during July, the highest number on record for one month, the Ontario highways department said today. The previous high was 111 in October, 1950.

The Eclipse of the Extremists

THE AMERICAN ELECTION CAMPAIGN, so far away, is very different from the campaign of 1948.

Four years ago President Truman won the Presidency by what he called his "give 'em hell" technique at the whistle-stops and Mr. Dewey was defeated when he moved about the country on a cloud of pleasant abstractions.

This year Governor Stevenson, the Democratic candidate, is behaving more like Woodrow Wilson than Mr. Truman while General Eisenhower is fighting in the arena like Wendell Willkie.

Since 1940, when Franklin Roosevelt defeated Willkie, presidential politics has not seen two such formidable and evenly-matched candidates as Stevenson and Eisenhower. Overnight the new Democratic leader has lifted the campaign above the personalities and abuse which were Mr. Truman's successful weapons and, because his own record is beyond criticism, has blunted the Republicans' charge of corruption against the administration. In the same way the personal reputation of General Eisenhower has given the Republican campaign a tone which it has lacked since Hughes in 1916 and Willkie in the middle of the war.

Apart from the high character of the candidates the interesting thing about the campaign is the eclipse of the extremists in both parties. The extreme Republican reactionaries and isolationists were defeated at the Chicago convention and the party came under the domination of its liberal and internationalist wing. The extreme Fair Dealers of the Democratic party received the same treatment in the nomination of Mr. Stevenson, a moderate who, for example, has refused to advocate the repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law at the behest of the labor unions or to quarrel openly with the South on the issue of civil rights.

Above all, the victory of the moderates in both parties has removed foreign policy almost entirely from the election as a party issue and revived the bi-partisan policy begun by Roosevelt and Hull. It is also clear that most of the political calculations of last spring are already obsolete on the eve of autumn.

Early in the year most Republicans and perhaps most independent voters assumed that if the Republican party could prevail upon General Eisenhower to run he would be elected almost automatically. No doubt this was a safe assumption, provided the Democrats nominated one of their run-of-the-mill politicians.

But, facing the presence of General Eisenhower, the Democrats were compelled to seek a leader outside the Washington circle, a man untouched by scandal, whose first speech of acceptance revealed the accents of greatness. The arrival of Mr. Stevenson seems to have altered the whole situation and thrown the outcome of the election into complete doubt. The Republicans no longer can count on easy victory against an aged administration and are acting like men who know they are in a desperate fight, that the vote of a single large state like New York or California may decide the election.

Such a situation provides no comfort for either side but must be highly satisfactory to all the foreign friends of the United States. They know that American foreign policy will not be changed by the election, however it turns out and they know that either in General Eisenhower or Mr. Stevenson the leading power of the grand alliance will be headed by an able President. To free men everywhere the contrast between 1948 and 1952 is heartening.

Where Wages Fall

THE FLEXIBILITY OF THE AMERICAN business system is seen in two recent and important developments. While the wages of the steel industry have been raised, along with steel prices, the wages of the great New England textile industry have been reduced. The textile workers have agreed to a wage cut simply because their former rates had begun to price their products out of the market and themselves out of jobs.

In the last year the textile industry has been depressed. The public does not have to buy clothes all the time, can wear its old clothes for a few extra months and thus reduce the operations of the textile mills. Resisting high prices, the American people reduced their textile purchases by a small margin. But even a very small margin, in so vast a market, can have drastic effects on industry.

The textile workers found themselves with high wages but reduced working hours and in some areas with unemployment. They realized that somehow the price of their product must be reduced if they wanted full-time work. So instead of blaming the operators for everything they faced the real facts of their position and agreed to arbitrate their wage scales.

The arbitrators immediately realized that the cost of making textiles in the northeast states must come down if these products were to be sold abundantly. Wages being the major cost of all production, it was agreed that they must be cut and they were recently cut, with labor's consent, by 8 1/2 cents an hour.

This decision is far more important than the amount of money immediately involved suggests. It shows that the free enterprise system of the United States is flexible enough to meet changes in the economic climate, to adjust itself to a changing market. Even at the moment when costs in such industries as steel are going up, the textile industry realizes that it must move in an opposite direction because the textile market enforces lower prices. And the labor unions of the textile industry are wise enough to understand these basic facts and to abide by them.

The same sort of facts will affect many other industries in due time, not only in the United States but in Canada and other nations as the world market and price structure change. They will have to be met by flexible adjustment, or by resistance to change which will only make matters much worse when high-priced goods cannot be sold.

Journey to the Mountain

THE MANCHESTER GUARDIAN'S allegation of "Olympian detachment" on the part of Canada in the face of Britain's difficulties has received many verbal replies. But none of these had the direct impact of Mr. C. D. Howe's recent announcement that this country will send Britain $150 millions in arms as an outright gift, will transfer $100 millions in defense orders to United Kingdom plants, and will arrange financial assistance to British firms desiring to establish defense plants in Canada.

That is help of a timely and practical nature, and demonstrates an awareness of realities that was overlooked in the Guardian's criticism. That such aid is not the first instance, but another item in an already commendable list of voluntary efforts by Canada, adds further weight to the Canadian argument.

In the latest move, Mr. Howe recognizes that Britain is one of our most important export markets. Quite apart from altruistic motives it is in the best interests of the seller to preserve the solvency of the customer. But trade must be a two-way affair; Britain must sell here if she is to buy.

Thus it is with our mutual advantage in view that Ottawa urges Britain to redouble her sales efforts on this side of the Atlantic. The market is here, says Mr. Howe. Machine tools, for instance, are in demand, and Britain's product is second to none in quality. But the manufacturer must get his message to prospective purchasers. He must file a claim if he would work the mine.

The Mahomet, from Sheffield, Coventry, Leeds or Birmingham will find a welcome on Olympus if he will but make the visit.

Cheating on the Woodbox

MAYOR HARRISON IS TO BE COM-mended for his decision to put teeth into the by-law covering wood fuel deliveries. For years citizens have complained to the council against the short-measure loads which have been sold to them. Earlier efforts to check the abuses of a few unreliable dealers appear to have had little effect.

Moreover, the belief on the part of victims that they could secure redress only through court action taken by themselves has been a discouraging factor in combating the evil. That conception will be altered by the redrafted by-law. The action should be applauded by honest fuel dealers no less than by the buying public. They will no longer face unfair competition from individuals who have misrepresented loads.

A tightly drawn by-law, rigid enforcement and prosecutions where they are merited should put an end to an unfortunate situation of too long standing.

After the Tempest, the Teacup

IT IS A LITTLE DEPRESSING TO think that the refined arguments on the proper way to make tea may be little more than academic in England now. According to the world's biggest tea producers, Britons have lost the art, merely throw a pinch of the dried leaves into a pot and pour in hot water or, worse still, dump a tea bag into a cup.

The producers hope to remedy this lapse by an intensive educational campaign. But they face an uphill fight. Twelve years of rationing, when there was not enough tea to make tea properly, have broken the ritual. Tea, it would appear from the producers' lament, is merely a fluid to be drunk. It has lost its esthetic charm. It is no longer a shining tradition.

Presumably no further delicate distinction is made over the use of cream or milk in tea, or its consumption straight and free from adulteration. Ostensibly there is no crime now in bringing the tea to a cold pot instead of a warmed pot to the tea. It probably doesn't matter whether the cream is poured in first or added later, whether the cup is raised with the little finger extended—the hideous gaucherie of the nouveau riche—or gracefully curled just away from the handle.

The stately homes of England, we're told, are gone, or are going. A high British diplomat has appeared at a Malaysian concert without his dinner jacket. The Englishman's home, though still his castle, has the drawbridge permanently down; according to another authority, And baseball has moved out onto the cricket pitch in some localities. But this decadence in the art of tea—bad show! Time to do something about that, what?

LOOSE ENDS

Reincarnation

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

"THE newspapers," said Mrs. Noggins, "made a lot of fuss when Waldo joined the Social Crediters, but not did they expect?" Waldo and all the other Tories pour into Bennett's camp are acting on their lifelong principles that they only discovered, by mere chance, after the election. Like Bennett, they've bin Social Crediters since, birth only they didn't like to admit it till the goin' was good. Now they've taken off their false whiskers and appear in a state of natcher. 'Tis a rousin' sight, like a nudist camp.

"Mayor 'Arrison says 'e's goin' to make a deep study of Social Credit but the real Social Crediters like Bennett are too busy and 'ave no time to find out what they believe in. And it don't matter anyways now they're elected. The thing works, it gets you in and that's enough. As Uncle 'Erbert said to the bar maid, when they carried 'im out 'orizontel, I don't know, says 'Erbert, wot you put in that drink but it certainly 'as authority."

"SOME people think Social Credit is on the right with the reactionaries, and some think it's on the left, with the radicals. Actually, it's both right and left and that's the beauty of it. With my left foot, says Bennett, I will crush the money power of the greedy capitalists into the earth but my right is steppin' gingerly into Wall Street to get loans from those enlightened and patriotic financiers that stand between America and chaos and between my government and destitution. Yes, says Bennett, I will break the money power with my bare 'ands, but not enough to break me. I am all for Social Credit so long as I don't 'ave to enforce it."

"SO SOCIAL Credit is left, right and centre and it's workin' something lovely because there's room for everybody, no matter wot their principles. There's even room for Waldo, so long as 'e can bring votes with 'im, in 'Arrison's broad bosom. But 'tis a libel to say the new government got into office by haccident. As Uncle 'Erbert said when they told 'im 'e was the father of triplets, 'is exactly accordin' to plan."

"It was necessary, of course, for Bennett to hexterminate the Conservative party if 'e was to be premier, but as 'e says, 'e hexterminated it fer its own good, puttin' it out of its misery with a merciful blow with an axe. But 'e only killed its body. Its spirit—'as bin reincarnated and all the lofty souls like Waldo that was Tories yesterday 'ave bin re-born in glory as Social Crediters today. In fact, the Tory party 'as picked up a new name and a lot of new passengers as can pay their fare."

"AND all the contractors and insurance salesmen as did business with the old government turned up the day after election, bronzed by the sun of Alberta, their eyes gleamin' with the pure light of Social Credit and ready to do business with the new government in the interests of the country. If the price is right. One and all they pronounce this a sound government so long as it's in office and controls patronage. 'Tis an inspirin' sight to see such selfless patriotism in a time of crisis."

"SO BENNETT'S 'ardly bin in office a week before 'e's solved the 'ospital insurance trouble as baffled Boss Johnson for years. Yes, 'e's saved the public two millions by transferrin' the cost to the public treasury where the taxpayers is too punchdrunk to notice it. Pretty soon 'e'll be gettin' 'ospital insurance absolutely free, except for taxes, and then nobody can say that Social Credit don't mean anything."

But 'tisn't fair to expect everything from the government at once. We must 'ave patience. The government needs a little time to conduct inquiries and appoint royal commissions to tell it wot it meant by the policies it got elected on. That will take quite a spell, long enough anyways to allow for a new election before the government 'as to do anything controversial as might lose votes."

"IF THE other parties think Bennett will delay the election for their convenience they 'aven't begun to grasp the magic of Social Credit. Bennett will leap to the country whenever 'e can find an excuse or—without one if necessary, and Waldo and the rest of 'em, after the death of the Tory party, after their reincarnation as Social Crediters, are waitin' eagerly to soar aloft and try their new wings. Like their spiritual brethren in Alberta, they've seen the light of a mighty revelation from on 'igh and struck oil at the same time."

A Little Different

Regina Leader Post

Soon after Alberta's emergence as a potentially great oil province, the C.C.F. attitude was that the government should do everything—find the oil, produce it, market it and perhaps even refine it.

They hadn't said that during the years previous, when millions upon millions of private money were being spent in the uncertain task of finding out if Alberta had any oil worth talking about.

The C.C.F. let private enterprise use its own money to establish Alberta's oil potential, and then, before private enterprise had any chance of following up its successful pursuit, the socialist party wanted to throw it out.

Unspoken Virtue

Ottawa Citizen

In most of Canada, it is considered bad form to talk about refinement. The Saskatchewan wheat farmer who curls his little finger as he delicately balances a teacup does not speak of refinement. The Ontario or Quebec lumberjack takes old world manners for granted as he courteously asks his dinner-mate in the cookhouse to pass the butter. The courtly way in which Canada's deep-sea fishermen wipe the scales from their boots before entering their homes is refinement itself. Only a snob would try to set himself above his fellow mortals by speaking of a quality that most Canadians make part of their lives.

TWENTY DOLLAR BILL

Re the lost money story in the Aug. 16 paper.

Could this twenty dollar bill have been found by another party and lost again, before Miss May Stevenson found it, presumably by a child, as it was carefully folded in a tiny carrying case?

It seems rather unlikely that a twenty dollar bill would be lost and one found in such a short time. If a child with a tiny carrying case found the bill it would quite naturally enclose the bill, then lose the case.

READER.

HOUSING PROBLEM

An item in your paper stating that a house on Menzies Street was sold for $3,600 brought to mind the fact that less than a year ago, between $4,000 and $5,000 was spent by the city council altering that house in order to place four large families in it.

A delegation went to the welfare council to point out its unsuitability for such tenants as there was no place for the children except on the street, that such ridiculous alterations were only a waste of money, etc. Many letters regarding it also appeared in the paper.

This property, situated as it is close to the Parliament Buildings, should have sold for $3,600 before the alterations were made.

The argument was that there was no other possible accommodation for those families.

However, just recently several smaller houses have been sold cheaply—one for $1,000 on two lots!

Perhaps these units were sold to elderly people, but why not put the children first? They could make good use of those grounds while elderly people only neglect them. And above any argument is the fact that those children should be in separate family units—not seven children in three rooms and 10 more on the doorstep!

Another question—should all city-owned homes be sold? Is not that a short-range view?

Might not some other emergency housing be required? What about the Lime Bay problem? Why not, instead of wasting thousands of dollars, make donations to one of the many philanthropic societies and get it interested in a real housing project?

These societies from time to time volunteer their time and money to many a worthy project for the benefit of both our children and our elderly folk.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

It seems to me that the logical conclusion to the perennial argument as to who are true followers of "Social Credit" is to agree that there are at least two different varieties.

The claims that either of these is the one true faith and that others are heretics has a familiar and historical ring. Such a claim is not reconcilable with the developing march of ideas nor the lessons learned from practical experience (such as the Albertan experiment). Surely if Christianity can get along with some 600 sects in North America, all of them Christians, then Social Credit ought to get along with two—and not crucify each other.

Of course, religion is not politics—although it has been and might be again—but the historical platforms and ideologies of political parties have demonstrably changed, and rightly so. What the public want is good government—and you can call it by any name you will.

You Can't Win

If I thought sitting in a dental chair for an hour with a face full of ironware and my jaws propped open like a coal mine, was enough of a toothache for one day, I had another thought coming. On returning to my car, I found that some officer of the law had kindly honored me with a ticket for parking violation.

Finding the good man had left his trademark on my windshield only seven minutes after my cranking the slot machine to its full sixty minutes, left me in a grievous if not slanderous frame of mind. So I phoned up the traffic division and reported that I believed someone had been tilting their meter.

Of course they phoned back to say their one-armed bandit was working overtime. Not only was it bringing in the shekles in an orderly manner but was also believed to be turning the American nickels into good Canadian ones.

So being somewhat of a stubborn nature, I awaited the little blue form marked "summons" to wit, to woo and so forth.

At the court house I sat back for three-quarters of an hour watching the cards stack up against me till I lost count of the decks, as several other victims endeavored to drive the magistrate into a howling frenzy before he got to my case.

I finally approached the magistrate with the only card left, a much creased and screwed up two-spot. However, I meekly stated my personal dislike for the underhand methods of that parking machine. To my surprise, through some trick of the trade unknown to me, the magistrate had managed to retain his equilibrium. He dismissed the case.

I left the court house feeling that this wasn't such a bad world after all. There was justice floating around all over the place. When I reached my car, my chin dropped down around my kneecaps. Yes, you can't win. There was a little slip of paper, flapping away on my windshield.

Intentions Or Capabilities?

By JOSEPH AND STEWART ALSOP
From Washington

IT IS practically certain by now that none of the real issues confronting the United States will be realistically discussed in the presidential campaigns. After four years away from Washington, Gov. Stevenson presumably doesn't know the size of the skeleton in the policy-maker's cupboard. Gen. Eisenhower, who does know, won't tell, or at least the general has shown no sign of telling to date.

Take, for instance, the dispute that has recently riven the higher echelons of the State Department, the Defense Department and the National Security Council with debate and discord. A review of America's strategic situation, present and projected, was quietly initiated some time ago.

In part, the purpose of this review was to get a firm foundation for the 1954 foreign and defense budgets, which must be presented to Congress just after the New Year. In part, also, it was desired to have a concise, over-all picture ready for President Truman's successor.

No sooner was this strategic review launched, however, than a very great and fundamental question brutally presented itself. The question was—indeed the question still is—whether to shape American policies by estimates of Soviet capabilities, or by estimates of Soviet intentions.

The question cannot be avoided for a reason as simple as it is bleak. A great many authorities, including some of the wisest men in the government, do not think the Western defense effort, as now planned, can possibly reach its announced goals.

Despite the hopeful public talks, the balance of power in the world is not shifting in our favor. We are growing stronger, but the Soviet Empire is growing stronger still.

In short, if the pessimists are right, the Soviets will not only be stronger than the West in conventional weapons, they may also have the power to launch a crippling atomic attack against the U.S., and they may be reasonably well defended against counter-attack. The optimists contend that the outlook is not nearly so bad.

But they agree, nonetheless, that if simple Soviet military capabilities are the test, a substantially increased Western defense effort is urgently needed.

The problem of Soviet intentions has been raised at just this point in the debate. Again, there have been two schools.

One school has argued that Soviet intentions will be mainly controlled by Soviet capabilities. In other words, they have said the Kremlin will try to do us in if and when the opportunity arises.

The other school has asserted that this is a wrong rule. They have claimed that the Soviets do not want a major war; that they are harassed by too many contradictions within their own system to risk a major war, and that they will continue as at present, merely grabbing for whatever is not nailed down.

A great weight of experience in dealing with the Soviet Union has supported this theory, which makes the purely military balance so much less disquieting. Yet opponents of the theory have countered that if Lord Bryce and Alexis de Tocqueville had been alive today even these great students could not have forecast the course of American postwar policy. How then, they have asked, can we be so sure about what Soviet policy will be?

Ups and Downs

By BRIAN TOBIN

"NO LESS an authority," said the Elevator Man, "than the Archbishop of York tells us that everybody needs an annual holiday. He says he has no patience with folks who say they don't. Those who work with them will tell a different story," says the Archbishop.

Well, that's good enough for me. I've always been in favor of an annual holiday, and now I'll advocate two, to be on the safe side. However, I can see a danger in that popular request angle.

When the people you work WITH demand a rest for you, that's not so bad. But if the people you work FOR get impatient, it's time to watch out. They might want to make it permanent. Going up!

"You don't," said the Elevator Man, "have to go far to find examples of folks who are overdue for a holiday. The ragged nerves, the tired feeling, the dejected outlook, the dull spirits—they all advertise the fact that Jack's been having all work and no play. On the other hand, all work and no play make Jack, and that's not so dull in the long run. But you can go too far. Like that young fella in Wales who was assistant to a park gardener. Day after day he had to wash flower pots, hundreds of 'em. People got to know about it, and started calling him 'pot washer,' even when he was out with the 'gals.' That was more than he could stand. He roared through the potting sheds and smashed $400 worth of prize chrysanthemums. You'd think that would have earned him a holiday in jail, but it didn't. Just a $15 fine. But it shows you can get too wrapped up in your work. And a lot of them take it out on the wife rather than 'mum. Lower main!

"Holidays," said the Elevator Man, "are supposed to put you in shape for another year's work, give you exercise if you need it, or just entertainment. Maybe both. Like that fat fella at the beach resort. He was watching a group of girls in scanty bathing suits doing exercises on the sands. Do you think that sort of thing is really good for reducing?" asked a disgruntled-looking lady nearby. "Sure is," said the fat man. "Why, I walk three miles every morning just to watch it!"

New Foreign Exhibitors Help Build Interest in Mammoth Toronto Fair

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP).—about the 350-acre grounds of some 3,000 workers scurried the Canadian National Exhibition today putting the world's biggest annual fair in order for Friday's opening.

Officials hope 3,000,000 persons will visit the two-week show. Some 2,699,000 clicked through the turnstiles in 1951 to see the 72nd edition of the "Ex."

Exhibitors were still scrambling for space today as workmen strung miles of colored lights and daubed gaudy paint along the mile-long midway. Ivan Brodie, exhibit space manager said space rentals will bring in $500,000.

One of many new foreign exhibitors, the Society of Motor Manufacturers and Traders, from Britain, moved a display of cars, trucks and motorcycles under a huge tent, covering almost 35,000 square feet.

Fair goers, used to glittering, high-priced talent in the nightly grandstand show, find a group of school children billed as one of this year's major attractions. The Do-Si-Ettes, 20 youngsters ranging in age from six to 12 years, from Lacombe Roman Catholic School, Calgary, will whirl through square dances before some 26,000 spectators.

The production, titled "Canadiana," is headlined by American crooner Tony Martin, but most of the supporting artists are homegrown talent. Another show has a bigger cast. More than 700 entries have been received for the baby contest.

The lake which rings the southern edge of the grounds, will be a busy spot. Paratroopers from Camp Shilo, Man., will drop into the water several times a day, while a group of young women perform a ballet on water skis nearby.

Agricultural officials expect a record number of livestock to arrive next week. There will be dairy, beef and dual-purpose cattle, horses, swine and sheep as well as fruits, vegetables, grain and other farm produce.

Judging the dairy cattle starts next Thursday and judging of beef breeds will begin September 1. Border regulations will keep American cattle out of the C.N.E. this year, but the same regulations are expected to hold much good Canadian cattle in this country for the show.

Judging on the large chess entries opened Wednesday, first of the exhibition judges' chess. The gates open at 9 a.m. tomorrow but the C.N.E. will be officially opened in the afternoon by Governor-General Vincent Massey. At about the same moment some 40 husky swimmers will plunge into Lake Ontario for the start of the $10,000 10-mile marathon swim.

Ontario Builds 'Tough' Jail for Incurables

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (BUP).—Provincial prison officials, "shocked" by riots at the Guelph Reformatory, started work today on a new $1,500,000 "tough" jail for hardened convicts.

Ontario Reforms Minister John W. Foote said the institution would be built near Port Hope, in the Millbrook area, and house about 250 incurables.

"There will be no pampering," he said. "It will be something like a junior Kingston." (Kingston houses a federal penitentiary.)

Foote said there would be no frills of any kind at the new institution. Construction will be on the cell-block principle, with

Girl Pedestrian Injured by Car

Katherine Smith, 15, of 460 Admirals, a pedestrian, was treated at St. Joseph's Hospital Wednesday night for injuries sustained when she was struck by a car.

City police said the car involved in the Richmond-Haultain accident was driven by William S. Hayward, 2140 Oak Bay Avenue. Miss Smith was treated at hospital for shock, cuts and scratches.

Police said she was crossing Richmond at the time, about 48 feet south of Haultain.

Plants Closed

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (AP)—The Independent Farm Equipment-United Electrical Workers' Union called a strike last midnight at 10 International Harvester company plants in three states after contract negotiations broke off.

The union called 25,000 workers off the job, declaring "the company has asked for a fight and is going to get a hell of a licking."

The company in turn said the union leaders do not want a settlement and that the union must accept full responsibility for the strike.

The union had served notice of a walkout if a new contract was not signed when the old one—already extended 60 days—expired at midnight.

'Sorry Jake, But Not This Time'

Crafty Jake Proctor of New Westminster Salmonacs was as dangerous as an unexploded bomb at Memorial Arena Wednesday night but Shamrock goalie Jim Hetherington put a damper on Jake's activities here. Hetherington slapped out Proctor's hard shot as Norm

Indians Refuse To Play Dead

The Victoria Tyees come home for 12 games starting Friday night at Athletic Park against Vancouver Capilanos.

And though the Caps have only the barest flicker of a hope of ever catching the Tyees this season, there is a possibility that Spokane Indians could yet make it interesting for the league leaders.

The Indians continued their winning ways Wednesday night, two-timing Yakima Bears, 8-3, and 2-1, while the Tyees were being blanked by Tri-City's Bob Greenwood, 6-0.

The result cut the Tyees lead to 10½ games over the tribe, lowest margin the league leaders have enjoyed in the past three weeks. However, the Tyees are 14 games ahead of the Indians on the losing side, a considerable hurdle to overcome.

The league race will probably be decided when the Tyees invade Spokane for a three-game series Sept. 2 or it could be that the Indians might still retain a mathematical chance when the clubs meet in the final home series of the year here Sept. 10-13.

That's the best the Indians can hope for although they are showing no signs of giving up the ghost.

Jehosie Heard was the victim of the shutout Wednesday, going out for a pinch hitter in the eighth inning while on the short end of a 2-0 count. Bill Prior was party to the Braves' four-run uprising in the eighth.

HAMRICK STARS

Ray Hamrick, veteran shortstop down from the San Francisco Seals, sparked the Braves' attack with three singles, scored two runs, batted in one and played a part in every run-producing frame.

Granny Gladstone picked up two of four hits doled out by Greenwood. Jim Clark and catcher Ron Bottler got the others.

ABERNATHY OUT

Tyees have also lost the services of Chuck Abernathy again, the first baseman suffering an injured foot when hit by a ball Tuesday.

The clubs meet in a double bill tonight.

In other games Vancouver bowed to Salem, 3-1, and Wentsch defeated Lewiston, 13-6.

Raphael Duke Scores Sweep In Sprints

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP)—Raphael Duke, of Victoria "Y", Wednesday won the Malkin Trophy at the fourth annual Vancouver Olympic Club invitation track meet at University of British Columbia Stadium.

The trophy is awarded to the winner of the "Olympic sprint" series on the basis of total points in the 100, 200 and 300-metre sprints.

Duke scored a perfect 15 points by crossing the tape first in all three events, running against five top-notch competitors from the Pacific Northwest.

His time of 11.1 seconds in the 100 metres established a meet record.

The Vancouver Olympic Club trophy for the best performance in the open events was won by Des Koch, of Seattle, with his toss of 148 feet, six inches in the discus.

Canada's Top Netters Eliminated From Meet

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (CP)—The Canadian Lawn Tennis Championships today moved into quarter-finals with Canada's four top singles players on the sidelines.

This country's seeded competitors—Brenden Macken, Lorne Main, Henri Rochon and Lorne Barclay—were knocked out of the running Wednesday without taking a single set.

Five United States players, a Mexican, a Dane and a Filipino survived the fourth round and entered the final stages of the tournament.

Macken, Canada's number two player was eliminated by Tony Vincent of Miami, Fla., 6-2, 6-3. It was the 'Montreal star's first encounter with last year's Canadian open singles champion.

"I played him the way I think he can be beaten, but wasted too many close shots," Macken said.

Hal Burrows of Virginaltown, Va., put Lorne Main of Vancouver away, 6-4, 6-3; Mexico's Gustavo Palafox defeated Lorne Barclay of Vancouver in a tight game, 6-1, 7-5 and Tiny Felissimo Ampon, Philippine champion, displayed amazing skill and speed to turn back Henri Rochon of Montreal, 6-2, 6-1.

The 98-pound Ampon described by Main as the best tennis player, "pound for pound," in the world, faces U.S. national day and hard-court champion, Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., today.

Favored with a shorter entry list, the women's singles competition enters its semifinals today. Pat Macken of Montreal, who Wednesday defeated last year's singles champion, Lucille Davidson of Lees Summit, Mo., 6-2, 7-5, faces the former Czech player, Hanna Sladek. Petite Melita Ramirez of Mexico is drawn against Louise Brown of Toronto. They defeated two Toronto players, Anne Freedhoff and Jean Small, 6-1, 6-0 and 6-8, 7-5, 6-0, respectively in the quarter-finals.

That business of gambling with second-line hurriers was costly to the Yankees in recent outings, as National League castoffs Johnny Schmitz and Johnny Sain were kicked around by the White Sox so lustily they soon could be American League castoffs, too.

Sain, effective through most of the season, faded fast in recent outings and lost his third straight game Wednesday, 12-3, following similar mistreatment of Schmitz in the opener against the pesky White Sox.

Cleveland, which goes hot and cold like faulty bathroom plumbing, scalded the Red Sox with an 18-hit, 18-8 victory that featured a 10-run fourth-inning rally. That victory, in which the Indians scored their most runs for any game this year,

BOOSTERS TO REPAY VANCOUVER'S BOB BROWN

There's something for nearly everyone at the ball park Friday night when Victoria Tyees return home bringing Vancouver Capilanos as house guests.

The Baseball-Booster Club will be giving away a satchel full of prizes to holders of lucky booster tickets and will make a special presentation to Capilano general-manager Bob Brown.

To show Victoria's gratitude for all he did to save baseball here, the boosters plan to present Brown with a gold pen and pencil set in a ceremony during the game.

Birthdays will be observed when Cec Garratt, Bob Moniz, Don Pries and Ron Bottler are presented with cakes, courtesy of the boosters.

Added to all this will be the game and the Caps usually provide fireworks when they come to town.

Chinooks in Second Victory Over Farmers

Knuckle-balling Don McKinnon tied Farmer Construction up in knots Tuesday night as he pitched Chinooks to a 5-4 victory over Farmers in the second game of the best-of-five series for the Senior Amateur Baseball League title.

TRACK MARK BROKEN AT EXHIBITION

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (BUP)—Another track record fell by the boards Wednesday at Exhibition Race Track in Vancouver.

Baneberry won the eighth race in record time of 2 minutes, 21 and one-fifth seconds for the mile and three-sixteenths. The time was two-fifths of a second better than the old mark, held jointly by La Mouche and Ignatius.

Jungle Sir, burned on one shoulder in a Lansdowne Park fire two months ago, came back to win the sixth race by six lengths.

Jockeys Ron Williams and Phil Lavioie were fined $50 each for various offenses.

Double No-Hit Baseball Rarity

BATAVIA, N.Y., Aug. 21 (AP)—A baseball rarity—a double no-hit pitching performance—was recorded Wednesday night as Bradford beat Batavia 1-0 in the Class D Pony League.

Frank Eitberger, the Bradford hurler, gained the victory as his teammates put together a walk, a sacrifice, a wild pitch and a grounder for the sole run of the game in the eighth inning.

Batavia pitcher Jim Mitchell set up his own downfall with the eighth-inning wild toss.

McKinnon's control left him momentarily in the eighth when he walked, the bases loaded and then gave up a single to Evans for two runs.

Forbes, carrying the potential tying run, was cut off at the plate to end the rally.

McKinnon choked off further Farmer hopes when he took just 12 pitches to strike out the side in the ninth.

Two runs in the sixth and one more in the seventh wound up Chinooks' run-scoring, and they were pressed to hold down Farmers who threatened to come back in the eighth.

Bill, Walt Win In U.S. Amateur

SEATTLE, Aug. 21 (CP)—Two Canadians today joined a field that included a professional crooner, a sailor, a college student and practically none of the pre-tournament favorites in the round of 16 contenders for the United States Amateur Golf title.

Canadian amateur champion Walt McElroy, of Vancouver, and Bill Mawhinney, his fellow-townsmen, who once held the Canadian title, each survived two rounds of match-play Wednesday while several high-ranking golfers came to grief.

McElroy's opponent today in a bid for a quarter-final berth is Marion Hickey, of Twin Falls, Ida., who ousted Sam Urzetta, the 1950 United States titleholder, in an early round.

Mawhinney, written off as a serious contender because of the bad back that kept him out of the America's Cup competition last week, was drawn against William Campbell, of Huntington, W.Va., after a couple of upset victories.

Only two big names were left in the tournament and one of them was bound to drop out in sixth-round play.

Charlie Coe, the 1949 champion, was drawn against Jimmy McHale, the Walker Cup member from Mamaroneck, N.Y., who barely squeezed by Vancouver's Percy Clogg, Tuesday, with a 2-and-1 victory in the third round.

STRANAHAN OUT

The others included Don Cherry, a 28-year-old professional singer from Garden City, N.Y., who pulled a major upset by ousting Frank Stranahan 3 and 1.

Another strong threat is Paul Johanson, a University of Washington student from Seattle, whose latest victim was Ray Billows, three-time finalist for the United States title, who fell 5 and 3.

British titleholder Harvie Ward was another fifth-round casualty, losing 4 and 2 to Gene Littles, 22-year-old former junior champion, who is serving in the United States navy.

McElroy knocked out Dan Silvestri, of San Francisco, 2 and 1, in morning play and survived some driving trouble in the afternoon to dispose of Dale Morey, of Martinsville, Ind., 1 up.

Mawhinney made the gallery sit-up as he shipped veteran Bruce McCormack, of Hollywood, 3 and 2, and breezed to an easy 6-and-4 victory over John W. Wood, of Seattle.

NOBODY CARES, BUT ...

Willington Cup Team May Lose Its Stars

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP)—Walt McElroy and Bill Mawhinney may wreck British Columbia's Willington Cup golf team if they maintain their scorching pace in the U.S. Amateur at Seattle. But B.C. golf fans couldn't care less.

The two Vancouver golfers today were competing in the fifth round of the American Amateur and wild dreams of fans here have the two hooking up in an all-Canadian final. A Canadian hasn't won the U.S. Amateur since Sandy Somerville turned the trick in 1932.

The final of the U.S. Amateur falls on Saturday, the day for the Willington Cup interprovincial team matches here. McElroy and Mawhinney, the 1951 and 1950 Canadian amateur titleholders, respectively, are members of the B.C. team.

If both—or either—reached the final, it would seriously cripple

B.C.'s hopes of taking the Willington Cup away from defending champion Ontario.

Naturally enough, golfers in these climes wouldn't give a fig for the Willington Cup if a Vancouver boy could win the U.S. Amateur.

Meanwhile, the draw was completed for the Canadian Amateur, opening Monday, also over the Capilano layout.

There are 195 entries, 82 of them Americans, including crooner Bing Crosby and Frank Stranahan of Toledo, O., twice Canadian champion.

Match play will start Monday with 18 holes—there is no qualifying round.

Among those drawing byes in the first round are Crosby, Phil Farley of Toronto, McElroy and Mawhinney, Joe Leblanc of Montreal, Rex Joudrey of Dartmouth, N.S., and Glen Gray of Edmonton.

Thrilling Fourth Quarter Climaxes Year's Top Game

Shamrocks 13, Salmonacs 11

Like two pounds of sugar stuffed into a one-pound bag, the Victoria Shamrocks burst the restraining seams clapped on them by the New Westminster Salmonacs Wednesday night and defeated the Royal City crew 13-11 to bring Victoria its second straight Intercity Lacrosse League diadem at Memorial Arena.

Although the Shamrock season is not over yet, they are champions elect as they hold a four-point lead over the Salmonacs who have only one game left to play with the possibility of only two more points.

By nature of the fast-closing schedule and the narrow two-point margin that separated the clubs, the game was a natural. Over 4,000 spines tingled like electric wires as the game produced every thrill in the book and easily surpassed any other game of the season for tense excitement.

There were individual heroes on both teams, but when it was all over and fans and players celebrated the victory in a post-game dance at the arena, every Shamrock was a hero in glittering armor.

The important thing on Shamrock minds now is who they will face in the semifinals, scheduled to start here Aug. 29. It will in all probability be Clary Jenion's Indians who lost a great deal of hope of a third-place finish when they lost their last game to Nanaimo.

Thoughts Now Turn to Semi-Finals

Indians are four points behind Vancouver with two games left.

Whoever it is, the Rocks will be carrying an advantage as they get the extra game of the best-of-five series at home.

Wednesday night the Rocks looked as sharp as they ever have this season, and it was fortunate they were as the Salmonacs threw everything into the game in a desperate attempt to brace their chances of a first-place finish.

Hairbreadth Harry Preston almost did it himself as he kicked out an amazing total of 45 shots, a couple of which were pure and simple larceny.

Shamrock goalie, Jim Hetherington played a paradoxical game, letting in a couple of long soft ones in the middle of the game. But in the last period, when a slip could have changed the course of the game and perhaps the final outcome, Hetherington rose to great heights.

It took the Rocks only 22 seconds to show the fans how badly they wanted a victory. After a New Westminster foray off the face-off, Norm Coates passed to Archie Browning who, in turn, fed a set-up pass to Tommy Druce for the first goal.

It Was Too Close for Comfort

Salmonacs' Jake Proctor, who like cheddar cheese seems to get sharper with age, squared the count, a minute later, but the Rocks bored through for a 5-2 lead at the end of the quarter. Norm Baker scored two pretty goals in the closing five minutes.

Salmonacs came back strongly in the second period and held a 7-6 lead before Coates tied it up with less than half a minute left in the half.

With Johnny McKay and Reo Jerome scoring for New Westminster, and Druce and Jackie Northup duplicating for the Irish, it was still tied, 9-9 this time, as the clubs entered the last quarter. Whitey Severson broke through for a brace of goals and Coates got his second to push the Irish into a 12-9 lead, but Salmonacs made things dangerously close when Jerome and Anderson beat Hetherington with well-timed shots.

Baker then made the championship safe and also picked up a painful charity horse as he blasted his third goal past Preston.

Baker's injury was not too serious and unless the Irish decide to rest him for the playoffs, he should be ready for Nanaimo, Saturday night.

City Senior Softball Final Resumes Tonight

Want to make some money? Just bet your neighbor your wad against his that either Stan Tenning or Bud Ross or both will be winging them in before tonight's senior A softball game is over.

Tenning Chinese Students' one-man pitching gang, and Ross, Forest Products' pitcher-coach, have carried their respective clubs through the semifinals and past the first game of the finals and a lot of fans will be surprised if they are not in there tonight when the clubs resume their series at Central Park at 6:30.

Forest Products hold a one-game lead in the set, having scored a dramatic 3-6 win on Mickey Smith's three-run homer in the eighth Tuesday night.

Hal Yardley of Butler's Aces will be presented with a trophy tonight for winning the league batting title.

Exhibition Soccer

Canadian Scottish, the new entry this year in the Victoria and District Football Association, will hold a workout tonight at Windsor Park at 7.

On Saturday Scottish will meet Heaneys in an exhibition game at Victoria High School grounds starting at 2:30.

American Hockey Loop Vetoes Recall Ruling

NEW YORK, Aug. 21 (BUP)—The American Hockey League's lend-lease program with the National Hockey League was terminated today in one of the most drastic moves ever taken by the A.H.L.

Apparently striving for more independence, the board of governors of the A.H.L. decided at a meeting Wednesday night that under no conditions may any player loaned to their teams by the N.H.L. be recalled at any time during the regular season or playoffs.

In previous years, the N.H.L. clubs could recall players after a 14-day period up to Feb. 15, or after that date only if one of their players was injured. This tended to weaken A.H.L. teams and reduce their chances for a playoff berth.

The governing representatives of the nine A.H.L. teams also voted to reduce the player rosters to 13 men, including goaltenders, and announced the 1952-53 season will open Saturday, Oct. 11.

Bevan Favored In Famed Swim Classic

TORONTO, Aug. 21 (BUP)—Forty-five long-distance swimmers splashed briefly in Lake Ontario today in their last day of preparation for Friday's $9,500 10-mile world championship swimming race.

A young Etobicoke, Ont., swimmer, George Bevan, formerly of Winnipeg, was the early favorite. Bevan's camp reported he had sliced three minutes off the world record for the distance during training. The 4:19.28 mark was set in 1937 by Frank Pritchard of Buffalo, N.Y.

Bevan finished second to Jerry Kerschner of Columbus, O., last year. His workouts this year have been much more impressive than Kerschner who has looked slow.

The water temperature must be 60 degrees or above for the race to start on schedule, and it looked as if it would be much warmer. Temperatures have been around 70 degrees all week.

Speed Burners Ready to Roll

People who revel in the taste of exhaust fumes and who think the roar of a souped-up motor is sweeter than the music of angels will be heading for the Cowichan Bay Road Saturday night.

After months of arduous preparation, the Shearing Brothers' Speedway, a quarter of a mile up the Cowichan Bay Road from Dougan's junction off the Island Highway, is ready to present its first races at the track built out of 10 acres of forest land.

Veteran of local races, Corky Thomas, said this morning, "It's one of the best tracks I have ever seen. It has a natural bank for high speed and the turns are made so that four cars can make them at once." Thomas will be racing in his rebuilt Lucky Lady.

PIKE GREEN

The quarter-mile paved track has heavy guard rails and thick wire mesh in front of the 1,000-seat stands to assure the safety of patrons.

A group of Seattle drivers who were top favorites here at Langford a couple of years ago, have agreed to enter the first races without guarantee to give the new track a royal send-off.

Among the Seattle drivers expected are Digger Caldwell, Del and Gene Fanning, Claude Wallis and Bud or Pike Green. Local speed artists appearing will be Thomas, Dave Cooper, Verne Bruce, George Haslam and Bob Simpson.

In addition to the big cars, there will be stock and roadster races. First race is scheduled to start at 7.45. The track is next to Dougan's

CORKY THOMAS

Cemetery and can easily be seen from the road. Accommodations for parking are excellent and close to 1,500 cars can be handled.

Unless there is rain before Saturday, patrons would be advised to wear old clothes as there is liable to be considerable dust in the parking lot.

Thomas said this morning that five or six local cars would be at the track tonight to give the surface a test.

The track, sole property of the three youthful Shearing brothers, John, Bill and Ted, is fully registered. They began construction last summer during the forest closure and have worked on it all summer. They handled all the work themselves except the paving of the track.

Soccer Important, But Pools Provide Thrills

LONDON, Aug. 21 (Reuters)—The British soccer season opens Saturday and once again Britons will fall under the money-for-nothing spell of one of the world's biggest and best organized gambling industries.

This Saturday and every Saturday until next spring, 50-odd soccer teams will boot a round leather ball up and down stadiums across the country—fun for the thousands who watch.

But the real thrill for 16,000,000 Britons comes when special newspaper editions and radio broadcasts report the winning teams.

These are football pools, players who have wagered an average of four shillings on the outcome of the games.

The money, if you win, can reach £70,000 for a six-penny bet, though mathematicians calculate the average bettor would have to spend 200,000 years betting to hit this.

In theory, the bettor decides the outcome of certain games and puts down "1" on his coupon for a home victory, "2" for an away win or "X" for a tied game. But housewives, maiden aunts and others who don't know the difference between a goalpost and a goalkeeper usually fill in their coupon blindly.

The minimum stake is normally six attempts—or "lines"—for sixpence. Those who make a lifelong study of pools, using "foolproof" permutations and other systems, often risk up to £1 a week.

People everywhere are in the grip of "pool fever" during the season.

Prize money is shared according to the number of winners and only five or six persons will reach the top-prize class.

Ironically enough most of these fabulous prizes seem to go to the "blind" punters.

Opposition to the pools in Britain is small. But the football association, controlling body of soccer, is against promoters cashing in on the game. Offers by pool bosses to plow some of their profits into soccer have been ignored by the association.

But almost all of them print specialized "tipster" columns and splash the story when the widow with five kids turns out the big winner.

They realize prize winners in the industry are the handful of men who own it. Some opponents claim that 90 per cent of the pools—so-called because they represent a pool of money—are controlled by four men.

Revenue figures show promoters cream off 20 per cent—about £11,000,000—of the turnover during the season as profits and expenses. The dividing line between profits and expenses is unknown as the firms do not publish accounts.

Turnover of pools in the year ending March 31, 1951—the latest available figures—was £54,000,000. Of this, the government received 30 per cent, nearly £16,300,000, in taxes.

With the government and promoters deducting 50 per cent of the turnover, only half the original stakes go back to the public in prize money.

GRAHAM CLEARS FINAL HURDLE TO TITLE BOUT

CHICAGO, Aug. 21 (BUP)—Welterweight Billy Graham has cleared the decks for his October title bout with Kid Gavilan.

Graham punched out a unanimous 10-round decision over Carmen Basilio in Chicago Wednesday night, but was unable to knock out his Canastota, New York, opponent as he wanted to do to assure a top gate for the Gavilan fight.

Despite his failure to get a kayo, Graham was the master in the later rounds. He opened cuts over both of Basilio's eyes, and had him bleeding from the mouth and nose. In the sixth, Basilio was on the ropes and in the ninth, Graham had him staggering but didn't have the steam to put him away.

Graham emerged from the fight without a mark on his face.

New York Lads Aspire To Pro Puck Careers

WINNIPEG, Aug. 21 (CP)—Four young Americans, set on hockey careers, traveled 1,900 miles at their own expense to attend Detroit Red Wings' hockey school which opened here this week.

After reading an advertisement last June announcing the site and date for the camp, the boys—Tom Mason, Wally Livingston, Tom O'Connor and George Gilbert, all of New York—decided to work the summer months to earn enough money for the long jaunt.

Mason obtained a job in a department store, while Livingston took a job with a trucking concern. The other two worked with a road repair crew.

Mason, at 18, is the oldest of the quartet. O'Connor and Gilbert are 16, while Livingston admits to 15 years. All attended high school in New York.

Their experience on ice has been restricted to play in the Metropolitan Amateur Hockey League. Mason, only defenceman in the group, said the Canadian boys play a faster, rougher type of game than their American counterparts.

"Our practice periods were limited to Madison Square Garden ice, which we get twice a week during the three-month season. Consequently, we can't hit the same pace as some of your players."

Mason also said there was a lack of good hockey coaches in the eastern United States.

The boys plan to take up residence in Canada if they should click on a Canadian team.

"Should they fail? Oh, we'll go back to school and become doctors or lawyers or such uninteresting things."

Uproar Over Margaret Termed 'Exaggerated'

State Department Officials Say Relations Between U.S., Sweden Too Good To Be Harmed

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (UP)—State department officials said today relations between the United States and Sweden "are too well based" to be damaged by the uproar over Margaret Truman's bodyguards.

With a parting shot at the Swedish press for publishing "exaggerated and distorted" charges that the guards bullied Stockholm newspapermen, the department hopefully marked the case "closed."

Officials admitted the incident was unfortunate, however, because it distracted the Swedes from their feud with Moscow over Swedish planes shot down by Soviet fighters over the Baltic Sea.

Both the department and the White House stoutly defended the three secret service men who have been accompanying the president's daughter on her European tour.

Stockholm newspapers charged the agents roughed up reporters on Miss Truman's arrival there Monday and that one guard threatened a photographer at the city hall.

Three Soldiers From Each of Two Victoria Families in Korean War

At least two Victoria families have three sons each in the land forces on the Korean battlefield.

The "Fighting Buxton" family,

563 Head Street, has three boys in the fight in this "Little War," and it was learned today from Capt. George Harrison, P.P.C.L.I. veteran that the family of John and Ethel Falconer, 1263 Balmoral, has the same number of sons in the Korean lines.

The Falconers are:

Robert, aged 28, who was with the Canadian-U.S. special force in Second World War, and now with the P.P.C.L.I. in Korea. He is a sergeant.

Donald, aged 26, a sergeant is with the Lord Strathcona Horse, in the tank corps.

Ernest, aged 19, a private, is in the Princess Patricia's.

There is another son, Lawrence, aged 25 now, who joined the Canadian Army in the Second World War at the age of 18. He is a civilian.

The father of the three now in the thick of the fighting in Korea was with the 2nd Canadian Mounted Rifles in the First World War, member of the three-war front-line P.P.C.L.I. He is now with H.M.C. Dockyard.

"John, my husband, also enlisted for service in Second World War."

Bedard said the four men were building an iron scaffold inside the tank when the fire was started by a torch held by Sudds.

In Ethiopia, borrower and lender are chained together until the debt is paid if a debtor fails to meet his obligations.

But the White House said Wednesday there was "not a word of truth" in the reports. The state department later announced that a full on-the-scene investigation showed the same thing.

What's more, United States ambassador, W. Walton Butterworth, reported from Stockholm, that the Swedish Foreign Office checked for itself and agreed with these findings.

Speed-Skating Champ Willing To Meet Reds

OSLO, Aug. 21 (AP)—Hjalmar Andersen, Norway's speed skating king, said Wednesday he would welcome a chance to meet Russia's best skaters on the Soviets' "home ground."

Andersen's statement came after a Russian challenge was printed in a Pravda story Tuesday, directing Red skaters to better the Norwegian's world record of 10,000 metres—16 minutes, 32.6 seconds.

"I should love a chance to meet in Alma Ata (Russia's track in the Kazakhstan province) to compete against the Russians," said Andersen, who won three gold medals in the last winter Olympics.

Power Wires Injure Logger On Moving Job

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP).—Logging camp superintendent Ken Baird was reported in fair condition in hospital Wednesday following a mercy flight from the west coast village of Tofino.

Baird, 43, was accompanied on the flight by his wife, a registered nurse.

He is suffering from shock and bad burns to the face and feet following an accident earlier in the day which caused a temporary power failure at Tofino.

A house Baird was attempting to move became tangled in high tension wires. In attempting to release them, he suffered an electric shock and tumbled 40 feet to the ground.

A Queen Charlotte Airlines plane flew from Comox to Tofino to pick up Baird, superintendent of the Kennedy Lake Logging Company.

Capt. Gordon Laing of Comox, C.C.A. pilot, arrived at Vancouver at 8:08 p.m. after picking up Baird at 6:16 p.m.

Polio Cases Mounting Throughout West; 803 Cases in 3 Provinces

BY CANADIAN PRESS

The Western Canada polio-myelitis toll climbed to 48 deaths and 803 cases Tuesday with reports of one death in each of Alberta and Saskatchewan and 12 new cases in Manitoba and seven in Alberta in the last 24 hours.

A week ago 635 cases and 35 deaths had been reported.

A delayed report today of Edmonton's second polio death—that of a seven-year-old boy—raised Alberta's toll to 17, highest of the four western provinces. Regina reported the death of a 14-year-old boy, bringing to 14 the number who have died from the disease in Saskatchewan.

Eight have died in British Columbia and six in Manitoba.

Saskatchewan reported no new cases today but its total of 263 was still the highest in the west. Alberta, with four new cases in the Lethbridge district and three around Edmonton, has a total of 228.

Three new cases in the Winnipeg area and nine from other parts of Manitoba raised that province's number of cases to 210. British Columbia 302.

Calgary and district remained the hardest hit region with eight deaths and 113 cases. At Lethbridge, three of the new cases were from the city and one from nearby Coaldale, the first from that town. Twenty-two cases have been reported there since the outbreak.

Two new cases at Edmonton and one at Bonnyville, 170 miles northeast, also were reported today. Edmonton and district now has reported 22 cases.

Winnipeg now has 31 cases and its suburbs 32. The southern Manitoba epidemic area has re-cases in Alberta, 210 in Saskatchewan and 44 in British Columbia. A week ago there were 175 in British Columbia.

MAYHEW SEES LIBERAL WIN IN NEW AREA

Committee Will Nominate Panel For Election

Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew of Victoria expects to see a Liberal elected in the new federal riding of Esquimalt-Saanich.

Addressing an organizational meeting of the Esquimalt-Saanich Federal Liberal Association at Colwood Wednesday night, the minister said there are enough Liberals in the two areas to elect a Liberal candidate if there is an election in 1953 or 1954.

He said there are 50,000 residents in the riding. The new group will hold another meeting Sept. 20 for election of officers.

Meanwhile, a committee, headed by Andrew Motherwell of Cobble Hill, will nominate officers and draft a constitution. More than 100 persons attended the meeting.

West German Envoy Takes Over Duties

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (BUP)—Kurt Brunhoff arrived in Vancouver Wednesday to take over his new duties as the city's first West German consular official.

Brunhoff was the first of three consular chiefs to take office in Canada since the Second World War. West German consulates will be set up soon in Montreal and Toronto.

Brunhoff said Germany had an honorary consul before the war, but had increased its representation due to the growth of Vancouver. He said he looks for greater trade between Canada and West Germany.

UNIONS PROTEST LIME BAY STAND

City Council Argument for Clearing Shantytown Termed 'Pure Sophistry'

Strong protests at what was termed the "arbitrary action" of City Council in ordering the eviction of 13 elderly persons from humble residences on Lime Bay were registered at the Trades and Labor Council meeting Wednesday night.

Delegates approved a recommendation of the executive to endorse a resolution of the Senior Citizens' Campaign Council voicing its objection to the move and asking that the 13 Senior Citizens concerned be allowed to remain where they are.

Percy Rayment, T.L.C. secretary, charged the arguments of the City Council in ordering the shacks cleared away were pure sophistry.

"The city says the shacks are a fire hazard and a health menace," he said. "There is nothing near enough to them to make them a hazard as far as fire is concerned, and as to the health menace, millionaires' yachts empty into the harbor in exactly the same way, and are just as much of a health menace."

Machinists' Union delegate, Harold Thayer, suggested the city's only reason for moving the pensioners was the fact there are a few vacancies in the Old Men's Home it wants to fill.

Aged persons, he said, are either extremely dependent or extremely independent and it would be a hardship to move into an institution, however well conducted, those who urgently needed to "do for themselves." The Lime Bay shacks, he said, constituted no more of a health menace than existed in Saanich with its septic tank situation.

Another senior citizens' problem came up when delegates, at the recommendation of the executive, endorsed a resolution by two Old Age Pension Council groups supporting a campaign for an increase in pensions in line with the increase in living costs.

T.L.C. Leaders to Visit Minister

A Trades and Labor Council delegation consisting of the executive and union representatives will make an informal call Saturday morning at 11 on British Columbia's new minister of labor, Hon. Lyle Wicks, M.L.A. for Dewdney.

They will be renewing the acquaintance of a brother unionist, Mr. Wicks having been a member of the Street Railwaymen's Union (T.L.C.), since he started work for the B.C.E.R. 12 years ago.

No arrangements have yet been made for meeting Prime Minister St. Laurent on his forthcoming visit to Victoria, Secretary Percy Rayment told T.L.C. delegates Tuesday night. He said he had been referred to Victoria's M.P., Fisheries Minister R. W. Mayhew, C.B.F.T.

Thousands of inch-long young salmon are "rescued" daily by federal fisheries department workers from streams which are drying up. Above, Inspector Archie Sherman, Duncan, and Guardian George Lovitt, Victoria, drag net through channel of Cowichan River.

These shining fry (young chum, coho, sockeye, spring or humpback) have been rescued from certain death in a fast-disappearing pool. They will live to swell commercial fishermen's catch in two, three or four years. Working in annual "salmon fry salvage" are Inspector Sherman, sportsman Albert Atkinson, Guardian Lovitt and Gordon Evans, secretary of Cowichan Fish and Game Association.

When salmon fry must be transported long distances to running streams, they are poured into trailer-mounted water tank containing block of ice. Ice keeps water temperature down and at same time aerates water, keeping young fish alive. Trailer in many cases is backed into running stream and young fish "flushed" out. Work is carried on from April to August. (Times Photos.)

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

I guess I am just naturally stupid. But I cannot figure out the advertisement published yesterday by the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service.

This is the part that had me guessing: "DOLLAR-A-DAY" PLAN: Effective Aug. 9, 1952, co-insurance was abolished and a new "dollar-a-day" plan was put into effect for those who go to hospital. Under this new plan, a person will just pay one dollar for each day he is in the hospital. It is expected that more than 97 per cent of those going to hospital will actually pay less under this new plan. What I would like to know is, less than what? Less than $1.00?

The same ad says: "These changes will benefit the people of B.C. by $2,000,000 yearly." Well, this is only $1.66 apiece, but it is something. When do I get my share?

I have always maintained that females are a necessity as well as a luxury. In yesterday's paper there were two more evidences of their usefulness.

The first item said that Dr. Marion Grant, dean of women at Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., believes women have the "opportunity to strengthen lines of communications" between people throughout the world.

The other item says a back-seat driver is the best antidote for getting sleepy while driving. Medical Examiner G. C. Mann of Richmond, Va., says the back-seat driver can play a prominent part in reducing the high fatality rate. By keeping up a stream of chatter, he says, the back-seater helps keep the sleepy driver awake.

So here are two fields of usefulness ideally suited to the ladies... strengthening lines of communication, and back-seat driving.

What would we do without them?

I am not aware of the name of the comrade assigned to keeping Canada in a state of unrest and confusion. But I am sure he must have permitted himself a broad grin when he saw a letter in The Times yesterday, signed by S. Smith of Walnut Street.

Mr. Smith of Walnut Street referred in his letter, to an "estimable and well-known citizen whose reputation for integrity and sincerity is universal."

And do you know to whom Mr. Smith of Walnut Street was referring?

Mr. Smith of Walnut Street was referring to James Endicott, who is doing such splendid work on the party line at present.

It is a wonder the comrades bother with us at all. We are so kind to those who spread The Word, so glib, that there can't be much fun in fooling us.

But I do get livid when I see a citizen falling docilely in with the party line—which, in case you didn't know, is to spread distrust between Canada, the United States, and Britain. Some of the population should endeavor to keep its sanity.

I see where two of the new Social Credit ministers have redecorated their offices, and a third has put a new lock on the door.

This is a good idea. Now there is no danger of some stranger stumbling in and finding where the oil is buried.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES

A new club for boys and girls here is teaching the value of fire consciousness.

Formed in conjunction with the C.V.I. program "Firefighters," the club allows children the opportunity of seeing various firefighting equipment in operation and has drawn praise from fire officials in this area for its "fine public service."

Request from Victoria United Association Football and Athletic Club for rent reduction on city parks was laid on the table at parks committee meeting Wednesday, until return of Parks Administrator W. H. Warren.

A "good bill of health" as far as swimming is concerned, has been given Thetis Lake by Saanich health department officials, following a recent bacteriological test of the popular swimming and picnic centre.

Sgt. Jack Mason, A-Sgt. Robert Mair, Constable Nap Bouchard and Detective Alex Briggs will represent the Victoria City Police Revolver Club at the Seattle police pistol tournament Saturday and Sunday. They will take part in .22, 38 and 45-calibre events.

BONDS KEY TO PROGRAM

Big Esquimalt Projects Must Wait Until Spring

The major part of Esquimalt's $350,000 road building reconstruction program will not be undertaken until next spring, it was learned today from Reeve A. C. Wurtele.

A start has been made in improving roads in the municipality but it is too late in the season to start work on some of the major road projects, such as Esquimalt Road and the Macaulay Bend, the Reeve said.

Esquimalt road would be one of the first projects on the agenda next spring, he added.

Mr. Wurtele said most of the work this year is being confined to Fraser Street which will be black-topped sometime in September.

Harry Haigh, one-time mayoral candidate, 845 Balmoral, and Leslie D. Foxford, 1144 Queens, both pleaded not guilty in city police court today to separate charges of unlawfully maintaining junkyards in the city.

They were remanded to Aug. 29 for trial by Magistrate A. I. Thomas.

Haigh is charged with maintaining junkyards on Balmoral and in the 600 block of Discovery Street without a permit from the City Council. The Foxford charge concerns a yard on Queens Avenue.

A race meet proposed by Victoria Cycling Club for August 30 in Beacon Hill Park has been called off through lack of support from Mainland groups, club captain Alfred Matthews said today.

Achille Genest and Emile Roberge, both about 29, pleaded not guilty in Central Saanich police court Wednesday to a charge of theft under the value of $25.

They are alleged to have stolen about 400 pounds of scrap iron. Magistrate A. I. Thomas set Friday afternoon for trial.

Accused will be represented by James J. Proudfoot.

Dog Man And Pals Arrested

Eight dogs and their owner, pensioner Frederick George Smith 3502 Calumet Street, found themselves behind bars today pending Smith's appearance this afternoon before Magistrate A. I. Thomas.

Smith failed to appear in court last week for sentence on a charge of keeping unlicensed dogs and not possessing a kennel license as required by Saanich law. He has refused to get rid of his dogs and has gone on record as saying, "I'd just as soon go to jail as kill my friendly pets."

Saanich police decided today they would not give Smith further opportunity this time to decide whether or not he was coming to court. They arrested him on a warrant issued by Magistrate Thomas in his bramble-covered house this morning.

Tom Sinclair, poundman, captured the dogs which Smith keeps in his house.

MAY BE MORE

There may be more dogs on the property, said Mr. Sinclair. "Some dogs may be hiding in the bushes."

The poundman said it was one of the most distasteful jobs he has undertaken. "The stench in the house is terrible," he said. "It is hard to believe, the conditions which Smith lives in. The house is without water service."

Smith was taken into custody by Sgt. Jack Hamilton following a short argument.

It is not the first time the aged pensioner has run afoul of the law for keeping unlicensed dogs. A few years ago, Smith kept about 30 dogs in his house.

Bennett Cuts Provincial Amusement Tax

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (BUP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett has disclosed admission tax for exhibitions and community affairs in B.C. had been cut from 17½ per cent to 5 per cent.

Premier Bennett said the government had created a third classification for amusement taxes. One was 17½ per cent for such entertainment as commercial theatres. A second was no tax at all for charity, welfare and church affairs.

The new classification was the 5 per cent tax for exhibitions and community affairs.

The move was expected to increase the Pacific National Exhibition tax bill by about $7,500—tax on the circus—since the fair had been exempt up to now as an agricultural fair.

Victoria sources said today no changes have been made in the Amusement Tax Act yet, and indicated Premier Bennett was probably making a broad policy statement on the matter. No order-in-council has been passed.

However, the premier's plans could be partially instituted through wide interpretation of a clause in the act which allows a certain amount of leeway in determining who shall pay the tax. Under the existing law, five per cent of the tax revenue goes into consolidated revenue, and 12½ per cent into the hospital construction fund.

Only 10 days remain until the Lower Island yearly coasting classic—the seventh annual soapbox derby, to be run on Yates Street hill on Labor Day morning.

Free-wheeling cars, built by their drivers to rigid specifications, will compete for the beautiful Victoria Daily Times trophy, currently held by Denis Weibel, of Port Alberni.

There are indications that this year's meet will be the largest ever, with the bulk of entries being in the top-ranking Class A, for regulation cars only.

"If the same interest continues we will soon have to give up the Class B races altogether," said R. H. Abbott, representing the Knights of Pythias, co-sponsors of the derby with the Times and Wilson Motors Ltd. "The Class A cars will take all our time to run."

Already Don Campbell, of the Nanaimo Sports Centre, who unofficially takes the Hub City's speedsters under his wing, has asked for 26 entry forms to cover contestants from Nanaimo and Chemainus.

FRIENDS MAY GIVE AID

Coast Residents Fight Isolation

Only a tiny segment of B.C.'s population would be affected by cessation of steamship service on the West Coast of Vancouver Island. But support in their fight for transportation facilities is crystallizing.

Victoria and Island Chambers of Commerce are expected to rally to their assistance. What form their aid will take will be decided when executive meetings are held.

West Coast residents are bitter at the prospect of being isolated from the world outside.

HARDEST HIT

Regions which will be hardest hit lie from Port Renfrew north to Quatsino Sound. At present there is road connection from Victoria to a point about half way between Jordan River and Port Renfrew. There is also a road from Tofino to Ucluelet.

The rest of the rugged coastline depends entirely on sea or air transportation. Tom Gibson speaks on behalf of the Clayoquot district, extending from Cape Cook to Barkley Sound. In this sprawling area about 2,700 people live, in one village and eight communities.

Near Tofino, there is a department of transport airport, with concrete runways. A daily bus service operates between Tofino and Ucluelet.

Despite the sparseness of the permanent population (estimated to have grown by 800 in the past 10 years), the 1949 payroll for the area totaled $2,275,090.

Mayor Claude Harrison has already promised to fight for roads for the West Coast communities, and it is likely that Chamber of Commerce groups will join in.

The matter will be discussed at an executive meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce Friday, and a special meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island executive may be called.

B.C. Power's Sales Gain, Costs Drop

Average residential consumption of electricity in the last six years in areas served by the B.C. Power Commission has more than doubled, while the average kilowatt hour cost has decreased by nearly 40 per cent.

"Considering the fact that most other costs have gone up during the same period, this fact is considered a major highlight," says the commission's seventh annual report, released today.

This progress, the report states, is attributable in part to the commission's uniform promotional rate structure now in effect in its 25 power districts.

Suggested sale of Victoria's old steam pumper now in the city market building was protested today by S. Lane, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's tourist trade group. He felt objects of historical interest to Victoria should be kept.

The committee does not wish to permit any illegal acts in the parks department and has taken the necessary action to ensure that it does not continue," Ald. Mulliner wrote.

Suitable records will be kept and gifts of plants to the mayor and aldermen prohibited.

City Fathers Get No Gifts

The mayor and aldermen will no longer receive gifts of potted plants at Christmas time from the city parks department.

Ald. Frank G. Mulliner, chairman of City Council's parks committee, advised Mayor Claude Harrison today of four changes in department routine. The mayor, a short time ago, protested park policy with regard to records, sales, gifts and transfers.

"The committee does not wish to permit any illegal acts in the parks department and has taken the necessary action to ensure that it does not continue," Ald. Mulliner wrote.

Suitable records will be kept and gifts of plants to the mayor and aldermen prohibited.

Record Entry for Soap Box Derby Expected

7th ANNUAL SOAP BOX DERBY OFFICIAL ENTRY FORM

To be Mailed to Bob Abbott, 135 Bushby St., Victoria.

With this form, the Soap Box Derby in Victoria, September 1, in Class A, this application must be signed by the contestant's parents with the understanding that the Victoria Daily Times, Knights of Pythias or Wilson Motors Ltd. are in no way responsible for damage or injuries incurred.

Parent's Signature _____
Sponsored by Victoria Daily Times, Knights of Pythias and Wilson Motors Ltd.

Another strong contingent is expected from Port Alberni, whose team walked off with the majority of the top prizes offered here last year.

(Note to contestants: The official entry form is printed on this page. Clip it out, fill in all the blanks, and send to the address on the form, as soon as possible.)

(Note to readers: Please clip the form and give it to any of the young derby drivers you know. They must make the proper entry in order to compete.)

As in last year's races, the cars will start on a ramp facing down Yates Street from the Ormond Street intersection, racing to the finish line at Cook Street. Three cars will race at a time until only the fastest three are left to race for the over-all championship.

This year the ramp has been altered in order to give a faster, smoother start.

Top prize is the Times trophy plus other valuable prizes for first, second and third in A. There will also be a consolation race for class A drivers.

A bicycle is offered as first prize in class B, the race for non-stock "bugs" that can be built of just about anything, as long as they have four wheels. There will be no consolation race for class B this year.

There will also be 50 "derby" T-shirts, to be given to the first 50 boys whose entries are received.

The drivers, who already this year have competed at the B.C. championship at Mission, Nanaimo, Chemainus and Port Alberni, must be between 11 and 15 years of age, and their cars must come within the regulations laid down by the All-American Soap Box Derby national committee.

Mr. Abbott has pointed out that any cars disqualified at previous races in British Columbia will not be allowed to enter the Victoria race.

The work of salvaging the young salmon, which may be coho, chum, sockeye, spring or humpback, is done by manual labor, often between 6 a.m. and 10 a.m. The man on the job don't get paid overtime, either.

The fisheries men wade into dwindling streams, or pools left when the river levels fall, and pull hand dragnets through the water, catching thousands of the struggling young salmon.

They are dumped into containers and transported to running streams, sometimes in small car-drawn trailers with mounted water tanks.

If the distance to a running stream is short, the rescued young salmon are carried in buckets and poured into their fresh new environment. Sometimes a ditch is dug from drying up river channels to running streams so the salmon can escape.

If the moving waterway is fairly distant, they are placed in the trailer-mounted water tank with a bobbing block of ice. The ice performs the necessary life and death job of keeping the water cool, at the same time aerating it. If ice isn't used, air must be pumped into the tank to keep the "young uns" alive.

The young-chum-salmon migrate to the sea immediately after they mature to the point where they have shaken free from the egg which is attached to the underside of their bodies. They have already had a struggle fighting their way up through a foot of gravel where their life started in egg form. They are in the "alevin" stage when the egg, from which they are feeding, is still attached to them.

The coho and spring salmon, however, wait until they are one year old before taking off to the ocean.

ENJOY LABORS

A cheery lot, the fisheries workers enjoy their salvage work and only regret that more commercial fishermen don't appreciate the value of the salmon fry salvage.

"Our work means dollars in the pockets of commercial fishermen," said one worker.

Of course, it also puts more salmon in the ocean for the sport fishermen. Realizing this, members of the Cowichan Fish and Game Association, headed by Albert Atkinson of Duncan, have volunteered to aid in the work.

The work of the fisheries department has increased because of the heavy industrialization of the rivers and the logging off of watershed areas.

Less foliage on the mountains means the water-run-off is sudden instead of gradual. This causes dried up streams in summer, and thousands of "landlocked" fry must be rescued.

ESQUIMALT WORRY

Sewage Held Dangerous To Children

An improved sewage disposal system may be on the agenda for residents of a comparatively new Esquimalt housing development following a meeting tentatively set for Monday night.

Residents of 29 houses in an area bounded by Craigflower Road, Rhoda Lane, Shirley Road and Forshaw Road will discuss with Reeve A. C. Wurtele and council a local improvement scheme which is expected to eliminate what householders say now is an inadequate system of sewage disposal.

Septic tanks are now in use by the residents but many claim they are not effective because of the unsuitability of the soil.

Overflowing sewage from these tanks has formed pools of stagnant water in the area and residents are worried that the 30-odd children living in homes there may be exposed to disease.

"We want something done in a sensible manner," said Mrs. Fred Borden, 943 Forshaw Road.

She and her husband plan to move out of the district because of what she terms "unsatisfactory" conditions that have existed since the development was first built.

Reeve Wurtele said today Esquimalt has a plan, already approved by provincial health authorities, to have the sewage disposed of through chlorination tanks which would eliminate the present system.

"But the people will have to approve of it first," he said.

The homes in this area are too far from the regular sewage systems to be linked up, said the Reeve.

Reeve Wurtele added that the planning for a new chlorination tank system was done some time ago.

Forest Fires Claim Third Fighter's Life

A second forest fire turned man-killer in British Columbia Wednesday, taking the life of a 49-year-old logging operator.

Dead is John Ribalkin, struck by a flaming tree while fighting a 100-acre fire 23 miles from Beaton, on the Arrow Lakes.

Previously the Burns Lake fire in B.C.'s north-central interior took two lives. The body of one firefighter was found a week ago and another man is missing and presumed dead.

Ribalkin, father of two children, was one of some 90 men battling the fire raging in stands of pine in the Incomappleux River district. Sixteen men working in relays carried his body out of the bush.

Weathermen today plotted an Alaska-born system of "significant proportions"—a cool air belt in laymen's language—that could bring rain to the burning British Columbia woods.

Meteorological experts said that the disturbance off Alaska was the first indication of a change in the weather pattern that could bring rain.

B.C. forestry officials say they hope to control the 60,000-acre Burns Lake fire some time today. Rain fell on the fire area for 20 minutes Tuesday, helping firefighters considerably, and scattered showers were predicted for the Cariboo region this afternoon. It is now controlled on three sides.

All Young Children Seem To Love Warfare 'Toys'

By PENNY SAVER

I often wonder what our grandfathers, great-grandfathers, and so on, did to amuse themselves when they were children and there was not one of the two worlds behind them to be "fought" in the back yard or pal Johnny's basement.

It seems that no matter where you go these days you hear a young voice hollering "rat-a-tat-tat," imitating a machine gun in the midst of mock battle.

Their toys are no longer a set of building blocks or miniature cars; in their place are cruel-looking guns, small scales of great warships, army trucks and anything that you can think of that pertains to war.

Their knowledge of manoeuvres is astounding and I guess we must admit they have a whole of a time and do seem to stay out of trouble.

With this interest so strong I knew that the young folk would be partial to a Junior G-I flashlight.

This little light actually is an army flashlight in miniature. It will clip onto the little fellow's pocket or stand up on an even surface. It has the regulation slide switch too. Flashlight sells for 69 pennies.

Heavens to Betsy! This is one of the most novel and practical things I've seen for a long time.

It is a plastic sewing kit no larger than a compact. Inside the clear plastic kit you find tiny spools of cotton in a variety of colors, needles, thimble and other necessities for an emergency repair with needle and thread.

The kit is dainty as can be and you'll find it useful every day and everywhere for traveling, at home and at the office.

This number is priced at 59 pennies.

"Come on, partner! Hand over that strong box."

While this bank, styled like a strong box, may not be able to hold all your worldly wealth, it surely will take care of the few extra pennies you want to put aside for something special.

We haven't seen one like this in Victoria for some time, not since before the war, I believe. It is made in Japan and is about 3x4x2 inches in size, with combination lock to assure safety.

Price for this is 98 cents.

AS WE LIVE

Sex Fascinates Children—Keep It Wholesome for Them

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, Ph.D.

All normal children are curious about everything related to sex and they are fascinated by some of its more spectacular aspects, such as reproduction. Most parents are like the mother who wrote the following letter in their concern about this matter:

(Q)—"I am the mother of two boys, ages 9 and 11. I always thought they were clean, decent boys until lately when I have seen them playing with girls, have heard them whispering shady jokes to their friends, and have found some pictures of naked women hidden in the older boy's room. I am distressed about this matter and am turning to you for advice. What shall I do about it?"

(A)—You can't stop children from being interested in sex. They are all curious and the brighter they are, the more curious. This is a perfectly natural reaction and you should not try to stop it. On the other hand, you do not want it to turn into undesirable channels.

The first thing to do is to see that your sons know as much as they can understand about all sex matters that interest them. Ask your doctor to recommend books that are suitable for children of your sons' ages, and to answer any questions your sons may want to ask him. Children usually will turn to an outsider rather than a member of the family.

Tell your sons that it's bad taste to talk about sex, tell sexy jokes, or look at sexy pictures. A child must learn not to do such things but they all seem to need time to learn this. If they get the information they want from a source they can believe and trust, they usually lose interest in talking to their friends.

As a parent, your role will be to see that your sons' curiosity is satisfied wholesomely. Don't make them feel guilty when they are showing a natural curiosity and don't make them think that sex is something nasty that must be kept behind closed doors. The greatest help you can be to them will be to build up wholesome attitudes.

Elizabeth Hurlock is one of the nation's great psychologists, and she will gladly help you with personal problems.

TODAY'S RECIPE

PEACH MARMALADE

Four cups (2 lbs.) prepared fruit, 7½ cups (3¼ lbs.) sugar, 1 bottle liquid fruit pectin.

To Prepare Fruit—Remove skins in quarters from one orange and one lemon. Lay quarters flat; shave off and discard about half of white part. With a sharp knife, slice remaining rind very fine. Add ¾ cup water and 1-16 teaspoon soda; bring to a boil and simmer, covered, 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Cut off tight skin of peeled fruit and slip pulp out of each section. Add pulp, juice, and two tablespoons lemon juice to undrained cooked rind and simmer, covered, 20 minutes longer. Peel and pit about 1½ pounds soft ripe peaches. Chop very fine. Combine fruits and measure four cups into large saucepan.

To Make Marmalade—Add sugar to fruit in saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil and boil hard one minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and at once stir in liquid fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for five minutes to cool slightly, to prevent floating fruit. Ladle quickly into glasses. Paraffin at once. Makes about 11 six-ounce glasses.

WHY GROW OLD?

Your Arms Out of Shape? That Calls for Exercise

Even though we take our arms with us everywhere, we often do not realize how they look because we do not have a very good view of them. Hands and forearms we can see but the rest we may forget.

The arm as a whole is an important part of the other person's picture of us. When we do look in a full-length mirror we are usually glaring at our hips or tummy rather than our arms.

Some women have the problem of arms which are too fat or too thin while still more are annoyed by flabbiness. In the case of the large arm, we should remember that an out-of-proportion upper arm may come from a glandular deficiency. If you have an extreme case of this you might talk to your doctor about it. Other women just naturally have an upper arm which is larger than they like.

This spot is difficult to reduce although it can be built up easily. There is one exercise which I have found to be reducing to the upper arm and which I will repeat today. Stand erect. Lift the arms forward shoulder height and shoulder width apart, palms toward the ceiling. Swing the arms down and back hard, turning the palms toward the back of the room. Continue.

For increasing the size of the upper arm take this exercise. Grasp a dumbbell or a weight in each hand. Raise the arms forward, shoulder height shoulder width apart, palms toward the ceiling. Grip the weight hard with your hands as you slowly bend the elbows, bringing the weights toward the shoulders. Relax and assume starting position. Continue, repeating.

The flabby upper arm is the bane of many women. This condition seems to appear with the years and is sometimes the result of losing large amounts of weight too rapidly. If you have a lot to lose do it gradually over the long pull and take exercises also. Swimming is fine for this condition. Take advantage of it. Concentrate on the side stroke and overarm.

If you would like to have my exercises for the arms, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 11, "Arms Full of Beauty," to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

A delightfully quick and extra delicious casserole dish is made with two cups cooked rice, a can of condensed soup and ¼ cup of water. The casserole may be topped with bread crumbs or cheese if desired and is baked at 350°F until the rice absorbs the liquid.

Double Ring Ceremony In St. John's

Canon George Biddle officiated at the double-ring ceremony in St. John's Anglican Church recently which united in marriage Mavis Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Taylor, Ocean Falls, and Raymond Thomas Phillips, son of late Mr. and Mrs. T. Phillips, London, Eng.

F. Chubb played organ music. Given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. William H. Harding, the bride was lovely in her gown of white satin with lace panels. Her veil, en train, was held to a headpiece of pearls and she carried a bouquet of deep pink roses.

Mrs. Terry Barber was matron of honor for her cousin and wore a floor length gown in mauve shade. Miss Doris Taylor, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and was gown in pale green floor-length dress. The bride's little cousins, Teresa Barber and Melvina Purser were flower girls in identical frocks of pink and blue. All the bridal attendants carried colonial bouquets.

Mr. Carl Jepson of Ocean Falls was best man, while Mr. Freddy Taylor and Mr. Bob Purser Jr., acted as ushers.

A reception was held at 3240 Douglas Street, where the toast was proposed by Mr. Terry Barber. Leaving on a motor trip to Portland, Oregon, the bride traveled in a grey suit with mauve accessories and corsage of red roses.

Danish Visitor Prefers Arctic

MONTREAL, Aug. 21 (CP)—At least one summer visitor to Montreal would much rather be in the Arctic regions. It's not the heat that bothers Mrs. Estrid Ott, Danish author. She simply prefers her Arctic home with her five reindeer and three sleds. Mrs. Ott, whose books for children and travel stories have been translated into several languages, knows the far north of Europe and America like a native. She has lived in Iceland, shivered in a tent in Lapland, wintered in a remote Greenland village and kept house on Spitsbergen Island.

Following discussion, it was decided to hold an organization meeting on September 9, at 8 p.m., at Spencer House. All women interested in joining an auxiliary to assist family and children service work are asked to attend.

First Baptist Church Scene Of Wedding

A double-ring ceremony in First Baptist Church Tuesday evening united Ruby Estelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bruniski, Kelowna, and John Hargreaves Steele, son of Mr. and Mrs. Steele, Barbados, West Indies. Rev. J. N. Clarke officiated. During the signing of the register the girls' sextette sang "The Lord Is My Shepherd," accompanied by Mr. Stout.

Miss Bernice Bruniski, Regina, attended her sister. She wore a pale blue nylon lace over taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and white gladioli. Little Linda Craig, Vancouver, was flower girl, in a white organza dress, fashioned the same as the bride's, and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

R. Craig, Vancouver, was best man, and ushers were Vernon Bruniski and W. Roberts. Altar baskets were filled with pastel-toned gladioli and guest pews were marked with matching bouquets.

The bride, given in marriage by father, wore a colonial-styled gown of white embroidered organza over pale blue eyelet lace. It was complemented with a cameo brooch, a family heirloom, gift of the groom's mother. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and violets. At a reception in the church social hall the bride's table was decorated with gladioli and centred with a three-tier cake. For going away the bride wore a French blue suit trimmed with yellow and blue plaid and grey accessories. The couple traveled by boat to Vancouver and from there are motoring to Port Eslington, where they will teach school.

Clear Vision to See Themselves As Individuals Need of Women

OTTAWA, Aug. 21 (CP).—Dr. Hilda Neatby, professor of history at the University of Saskatchewan, said today that women's job now seems to be to see themselves as individuals.

In an address prepared for delivery to the triennial convention of the Canadian Federation of University Women, Dr. Neatby traced the reasons for the subjection of women to "a kind of instinctive compensation for their biological and psychological advantages."

Their emancipation "was a distinctive aspect of the democratic movement in western civilization," she said. "Theoretically it is implicit in the rational humanism and in Christianity which have been formative influences in western civilization."

This emancipation waited for the material advantages of the machine age for a general reorganization of democratic society to start its course.

However, Dr. Neatby said women "must constantly remind themselves that freedom is dangerous without a purpose and that right is meaningless without a duty."

Women's best claim to public service "lies in the fact that tradition and temperament and experience keep constantly before women the need for getting things done and done properly without too much theorizing."

Women should stop considering whether they are better or worse than men. They should "take up the 'condition-of-humanity' question as individuals who have a responsibility for it."

Women's special opportunities for service are in establishing a moral tone and moral practices in her family, formal education of children and young people and disinterested cultivation of the arts, letters and sciences.

Unmarried career women have special obligations to get a job done regardless of who gets the credit for it or the most pay, to conduct herself so that women who come after her will find it easier to make their contributions and to maintain "without obtruding, the character and quality of her sex."

She added: "Women's job now seems to be to see themselves as individuals. They must sum up all their assets and liabilities of character, of intellectual ability, of knowledge and experience, of economic and social position; and they must then devote themselves disinterestedly and intelligently, without self-consciousness, to the difficult and arduous tasks that confront free people everywhere."

13,000 EXPECTED ENROLMENT HERE

But 800 Saanich, Victoria Students Must Delay Return to Studies Due to Strikes

School bells will ring out September 2, as boys and girls forsake woods, field and seashore for classroom routine.

A record high enrolment of 13,000 is expected in Greater Victoria's five senior, two junior and 28 elementary schools.

For more than 800 Greater Victoria and rural Saanich pupils, however, the 9 o'clock bell will not toll.

New schools and annexes they were due to attend were left uncompleted owing to the strike of Victoria carpenters.

More than 500 students from Greater Victoria schools are expected to get an extension of holidays and more than 300 from rural Saanich.

Pupils in the whole southern Saanich Peninsula are affected by the halting of work on the new Royal Oak High and Royal Oak Elementary.

"Some sort of shift system will be inaugurated immediately after Greater Victoria schools open," J. F. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools, announced today.

Between 250 and 280 Grade VII and VIII pupils were slated to enter the new Oak Bay Junior High building which was to be used as an elementary school until Christmas.

The strike halted work just about three weeks short of completion, Mr. English said.

About 260 children will be affected by lack of annexes at Oaklands, Craigflower, View Royal and Cedar Hill.

Children slated for Oak Bay School came from Willows and Monterey with a few from Margaret Jenkins and Oaklands.

Mr. English stated these schools will be full in September despite the fact that 250 children went out of them.

U.B.C.'s New Recreational Course Starts

Need for having properly-trained persons to handle community recreational activities has been seen by educational authorities and the University of B.C. has been selected to undertake a program of training.

The university will inaugurate its first course in public recreation this fall, in conjunction with the National Physical Fitness Council.

Twenty-five students have been selected to take the course. They will come from each of the 10 provinces and from the Yukon Territory as well. The course will provide instruction in social and physical recreation, organization and administration.

It is the first time in the history of Canada that such a course has been designed and it is intended that the graduates, upon receiving their diplomas, will return to locations throughout the nation to aid in community recreation activities.

Five additional students will be added for the B.C. area. Those interested must have the necessary university entrance standing and may direct their inquiries to the Department of University Extension or the Physical Education Department of the university.

'Casual' Keynote Of Male Campus Dresser This Year

There may be some changes in colleges this fall—the size of the enrolments, the curriculum, the standing of the football teams—but one thing is unchanging—the word Casual will still keynote the male students' wardrobes.

Fabric, style interest, and value stand-out in the men's back-to-school wardrobe curriculum.

In fabrics, increased availability of woolsens is reflected in a wider use of this handsome, rugged fabric. Weaves where natural fibers can be woven into attractive fabrics are leaders—the tweeds, shetlands, chevots and flannels. Soft woolsens for suits and sport coats, and tweeds for topcoats is much in evidence. Hard-finish woolsens are used widely for men who seek maximum comfort and crease resistance.

Co-Ed Clothes For Sub-Teens Exude Glamour

This season Fashion is a fairy godmother to the sub-teen and teen, creating styles that make going back to school doubly exciting!

Co-ed clothes for fall, 1952, are spirited, colorful, and every bit as fashion-conscious as those of her glamour-girl sister.

Designers have used fabric as a magic wand in lending enchantment to the back-to-books wardrobe. There are new textures in beloved corduroy—a cross-hatch, basket weave-wale achieved by right angle cutting; winter versions of smart, rugged denim; wonderful tweed-jersey; cotton tweeds, shimmering iridescent taffetas, washable Orion and wool fabrics, and smart woolsens in flannels and colorful plaids.

Color will perform its magic in the young wardrobe, too! The favorites are hot pink, raspberry, the bright blues, purple, softer greys, turquoise and black-and-white combinations in the tweeds, corduroys and tweedy jerseys.

Go-together separates are important for school and casual wear. Completely co-ordinated groups are being shown in printed or tweed corduroy skirts, jackets and weskits with a bright cotton blouse for a sharp accent. Quilted denim separates are rating rave notices, too.

Dressy separates are sure to be favored by teen-agers for they are smarter than ever in the new silhouettes, unusual fabrics and exciting colors. Nipped-waist jackets with black velvet revers paired with a full, full skirt will catch the eye of the young glamour girls.

Canada-Brazil Air Service Opens in 1953

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (BUP).—Canadian Pacific Airlines bounded into the top 10 of the world's commercial airways Wednesday with the announcement that the company would extend its air network into South America.

President Grant McConachie said flights would start in January between Tokyo and Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, to tap the increasing air traffic out of the Orient to South America.

Mr. McConachie said negotiations were underway with other South American countries, especially Peru. Mexico will also be included as a port of call for the giant C.P.A. airliners.

He said the 12,000-mile extension of the present Tokyo-Vancouver run would boost the Canadian line into the ranks of the first 10 in terms of mileage of the world's 110 carriers.

Charge to Follow Mainland Knifing

PRINCE GEORGE, B.C., Aug. 21 (CP).—R.C.M.P. said Wednesday 24-year-old Stephen George Joseph will be charged with attempted murder in connection with a stabbing affray at Vanderhoof Sunday.

Joseph is lodged in the Prince George jail.

Twenty-year-old Sam Williams was seriously wounded in the brawl. Both men are members of the Stoney Creek Indian Reserve.

New Interests In Collegiate Outfits Now

College fashions are full of new interest this year in clever detailing, unusual combinations of fabrics, exciting silhouettes.

The best illustration of this brilliant new styling is found in sweaters—always the college girl's favorite, but this year with a completely different look.

These sweaters are identified by stripes, used in all possible ways . . . turtle necks . . . jacquard knits . . . plain and figured combinations . . . prominent use of knit ribbing.

Every girl headed for college will want to pack an "after-S" white sweater for dress-ups—and knit dresses are a Fall '52 must.

Skirts carry out this same exciting, new theme with a lavish use of pockets, side lacing, button detailing, pleats in unusual treatments, fringed trims, attached cummerbunds in contrasting colors and fabrics.

Jumpers are a favorite choice for the campus this year—worn with neat blouses for casual wear or without blouse for dress-up.

Party dresses are convertible with add-or-subtract dummies, jackets, fichus. Dressy blouses and skirts, cocktail length, will be popular for parties.

Coats are favored in rich, fleecy or nubby fabrics with small touches of fur, belted backs, wide, roomy sleeves, and full-flaring backs.

Fabric choices for the campus range from denims to orlon, all types of furry, fleecy fabrics, cashmere, printed corduroys, wool jersey worn with tweeds, paisley print cottons and many more.

School-bound girls look snuggly and smart in their little empress coats with matching hats. Left: all-wool fleece with matching slacks; right: checked-and-plain color reversible.

Best Bet Buying In School Wear, Other Needs Now

Outfit your child for school now! Like all rush seasons, back-to-school-time means crowded stores, rapid turn-over of stock.

Merchants report they are ready now with complete stocks of school clothing and equipment, and remind parents that the early shopper gets the biggest selection, the best buys.

This year parents are urged to shop early—avoid the rush, save time and money. This also allows time for necessary alterations on clothes and children's wardrobes and school needs will be in order and ready for school's first day!

By RON BAIRD

The Ed McCurdy Show (Tuesdays at 9:30) features ballads and folk songs by one of the continent's top singers in this field. Some people like Burl Ives, I'll take singer McCurdy.

The Ray Norris Quintet (Saturdays at 9), an excellent little musical group in the jazz idiom. Features Victoria's Fraser McPherson on clarinet, one of Canada's best.

I don't generally find much on KVI to keep me in at night but Could This Be You? does the trick Mondays at 9:30. On this one, the Washington State Patrol takes a microphone to the scene at accidents and records some mighty interesting excuses from erring motorists.

On KOMO, they've got a program called Dragnet (Thursdays at 9) which I think is just about the best thing on radio. Stars Jack Webb as a detective sergeant in the Los Angeles police department, surrounded by a group of actors who almost sound more authentic than the real things. It's a true-to-life crime series.

Some people don't care much for the progressive type of dance music but for those that do, Stan Kenton and his Concerts in Miniature (Tuesdays at 7:35) provide some mighty fine listening. This is a summer replacement show which, unfortunately, goes off the air next month.

KIRO have three fine shows which are well worth tuning in.

The Whistler (Sundays at 7:30) is labelled the "most popular show on the West Coast." And that's no idle boast.

It's a suspense program with some wonderful plots and bang-up endings.

Horatio Hornblower (Sundays at 8) is an English show, starring screen star Michael Redgrave and as salty a tale of the sea as any that has come along in many a year.

The last two programs on my list star come-lans.

You Bet Your Life (Wednesdays at 9) is carried on KOMO and has Groucho Marx, one of the funniest men on the air, party questions with quiz contestants.

And last, but by no means least, is the Steve Allen Show (Monday through Friday at 6:30), another summer replacement. Steve wanders through the audience exchanging gags with some of the strangest people ever gathered in a broadcasting studio. There's a bit of music, some guest stars and more laughs per minute than most of adio's "comedy" shows put together.

Well, that's my list. You may not agree with it but you might like to listen to some of these shows, they're worth the price of a radio license.

'Honest, It's Rain'

Taking no chances on the weather today were these Esquimalt tots who just got umbrellas up in time as the first measurable rain in 29 days fell lightly on the city. Danny, four, Jackie, one, and Tommy Harris, three, of 920 Shirley Road, were one jump ahead of the weatherman, who said the morning sprinkle

"didn't count," but he expects some that will tonight. A storm in the Gulf of Alaska may bring showers here in two or three days. Tonight and Friday will be cloudy with intermittent clear skies and a temperature range of 52 to 65 degrees. (Times Photo.)

Big Insurance Change Planned

Salesmanship to Take Place of 'Big Stick' Health Minister Says

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (CP)—Health Minister Eric Martin announced today an end to prosecutions for non-payment of hospital insurance premiums.

He said the government plans to replace prosecutions with salesmanship.

Mr. Martin said the Social Credit government "is not carrying a big stick" to make people join the scheme.

The Hospital Insurance Service, established by the Coalition government in 1949, has operated on a compulsory basis.

The Social Credit government plans to make a voluntary scheme, but removal of compulsory features can only be done with the assent of the Legislature.

Mr. Martin explained the government aims to make the hospital services so acceptable to the public that more people will enroll under the voluntary plan than were brought into the scheme on the compulsory basis.

A total of 1,297 prosecutions for non-payment of hospital insurance was launched by the previous government, and 5,815 persons had their wages garnished.

BY-ELECTIONS BEFORE SESSION SAYS BENNETT

VANCOUVER, Aug. 21 (BUP)—Premier W. A. C. Bennett announced late Wednesday that by-elections definitely would be held to find seats in the B.C. Legislature for the two cabinet members without ridings.

Bennett said he intended to hold the by-elections in time for Attorney-General Robert Bonner and Finance Minister Einar Gunderson to sit at the next House session. He did not indicate what seats would be opened, but indications were that Social Credit Bert Price would step down in the Vancouver-Burrard "B" riding to clear up the legal confusion about a recount there.

Premier Bennett says the new government wants the federal government to bring the Canadian dollar down towards par with the American dollar.

Bennett says the government will ask Ottawa to take the step because the 4 per cent premium is not good for B.C. business, even though it may stir Canadian national pride. The Premier adds B.C. metals and forest industries are being hit badly by the premium, which has a lesser but still adverse effect on the agriculture and tourist industries.

For comment on Premier Bennett's proposal that Canada seek dollar parity with United States, see column by Times Business Editor Burke Cahill, page 6.

The premier also said the Social Credit government plans to "rectify" the sales tax on at least low-cost meals as soon as possible. He disclosed the cabinet was working on a liquor plan to carry out the "yes" vote in the June 12 plebiscite, but said the plan would not be ready before the opening of the legislature, expected next March.
